VANCOUVER (CP)—About $2,600 cash was snatched from a woman employee of a wholesale paper company on Homer Street in downtown Vancouver this morning. Shortly afterward a suspect was arrested.

Police said the woman, employed by the Barber-Elis Co., was on her way from a bank with payroll money when the theft occurred.

Police cars converged on the scene, and some minutes later a man answering the description she gave was apprehended near the waterfront. Part of the money was recovered, police said. The woman was not immediately identified.

Freight Rate Hike Cancelled

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government today cancelled an increase in railway freight rates recently authorized by the Board of Transport Commissioners.

Prime Minister Nehru
... ready to step down

The cabinet action covered a 3.6-per-cent hike in railway freight rates, as well as three-per-cent boost for Bell Telephone Company of Canada in local and long distance charges in Ontario and Quebec.

The cabinet, however, ruled against eight provinces who had asked that a four-per-cent freight rate increase, put into effect Jan. 1, 1957, also be cancelled.

The announcement also said the government has decided to direct the transport board in future to disregard payments into tax equalization reserve funds as expenses in determining rates.

UNCERTAIN WHEN NEEDED
A statement from prime minister Diefenbaker's office said this was done "because of the uncertainty as to whether and when such reserves will need to be drawn down for the payment of taxes in future years and the inequity of imposing upon rate payers at this time the full cost of this distant and uncertain contingency."

Had the increases gone into effect, they would have meant about $12,500,000 to Bell Telephone in Ontario and Quebec.

The appealing provinces—all but Ontario and Quebec—had argued that the 4 per cent increase of Jan. 1, 1957, should also be disallowed because in the transport board decision then it had taken into account similar payments to the tax equalization reserves.

The prime minister's statement said, however, that the cabinet "decided that the level of freight rates that went into effect at that time, and is now in effect, was justified on other grounds, including the length of time it had been in effect before the petition was made" two weeks ago.

The cabinet had suspended the increases until May 1 pending the appeals.

ASKED 10 PER CENT
The railways initially had asked the transport board for a 10 per cent increase.

The principle involved in the two cases was somewhat the same. The transport board allowed payments into a tax deferral reserve fund to be charged up against current expenses that have to be covered by freight and phone charges.

The appeals were based on the argument that current users of rail and phone services should not be required to pay for possible future tax charges.

Amounts involved in these tax reserve funds annually are $13,450,000 in the case of Bell Telephone and $12,250,000 for the Canadian Pacific Railway—the line used as the "yardstick" company in the setting of freight rates.

New Oil Pipeline East Urged at Borden Probe

CALGARY (CP)—A group of independent Canadian oil companies today proposed that a new $370,000,000 crude oil pipeline be built to carry 200,000 barrels a day from Edmonton to Montreal.

The group said a modern 30-inch diameter line to Montreal could carry Alberta crude to the East for $3.16 a barrel "which is less than the laid-down price of comparable Venezuelan crude."

The independents made their proposal in a brief to the royal commission on energy resources which started hearings here today. They said the move is necessary to offset export markets lost when the United States government placed restrictions on Canadian imports.

The brief said the Edmonton-Montreal pipeline could be built without tariffs, subsidies, government participation or penalties to refiners, oil producers or Canadian consumers in the East.

It claimed construction could be mainly of Canadian pipe and Canadian labor and material would be employed, giving "an immediate strong impetus to the recovery of the Canadian economy."

R. A. Brown Jr., president of Home Oil Co. Ltd., acted as spokesman for the group of 12 companies.

The Montreal market now is supplied by crude oil from Venezuela and the Middle East, shipped duty-free by tanker or pipeline from Portland, Me. A pipeline already operates out of Edmonton with the Interprovincial Pipeline Company taking light-gravity crude east to Sarnia and Toronto.

Mr. Brown outlined two possible routes for the proposed new pipeline. One would generally parallel the natural gas line of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Limited and would cost $423,164,000. The other would follow a Canadian route from Edmonton to Emerson, Man., on the U.S. border, skirt through

Teamster Strike Still Unresolved

Prospects of a quick return to work at Government House appeared uncertain today.

"I wouldn't count on a return to work," a Teamsters Union official in Vancouver said Monday night after the striking local, which picketed Government House, met to consider terms of a provisional settlement reached Sunday.

Reports from the union meeting Monday night said the teamsters were told they "must reckon on being out for at least another six weeks" if they rejected the settlement proposal made in resumed negotiations with the Heavy Construction Association of B.C.

The province-wide strike and lockout erupted out of a wage dispute eight weeks ago. The teamsters struck for boosts of 53 cents an hour. The contractors offered 40 cents.

Pilot Saved After Crash

THE PAS, Man. (CP)—A civilian pilot whose single-engine plane was badly wrecked in a crash landing in northern Manitoba was picked up by helicopter today after being missing since Sunday.

One of two RCAF Dakotas which had been searching for John Gifford Webb, 20, spotted him 30 miles north of Wabowden, Man.

ALLIES AGREE TO SEPARATE MEETINGS

PARIS (Reuters) — The United States, Britain and France have agreed to separate meetings between their Moscow ambassadors and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in preliminary talks for a summit meeting, the French foreign ministry said today.

Russia has proposed either that the separate talks be continued, or that the ambassadors of Poland and Czechoslovakia join the talks if they are to be held jointly.

B.C. Electric Rate Hearing Called May 21

Public Utilities Commission hearings on B.C. Electric's proposed rate increase will start in Vancouver May 21, and in Victoria May 26.

Hearing in this city will be held in the courthouse.

Officials announced today that opening sessions of the hearings will be for presentation of arguments by the company in support of the increases. These are expected to last two or three days.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

Members of the public and organizations opposing the increase will be able to cross-examine company witnesses.

Then the hearings will adjourn until June 12 when for at least two days, the commission will hear counter-arguments, then rebuttals by both sides.

Second phase of the hearings to be held in Vancouver will open Monday, June 9. Location is not yet certain. Officials could not say when a decision would likely be handed down.

The B.C. Electric application for increases which would raise revenue by 12 per cent was announced last Wednesday. It was reported the requested rate boost would increase costs to homeowners by from 50 cents to $1.50 per month.

Various municipal officials have indicated they will support efforts to oppose the increases. Similar action was called for by individual delegates to the quarterly executive meeting of the B.C. Progressive Conservative Association last weekend.

DE VALERA HINTS

Ireland Partition To End?

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times quotes Prime Minister de Valera of the Republic of Ireland as saying he foresees the possibility of the republic associating with the British Commonwealth—"under certain circumstances."

The American-born premier said that if the partition of the republic and Northern Ireland to the Irish minority in the six counties of Northern Ireland, the republic "might affiliate with the Commonwealth on terms similar to those covering the island of India."

Ireland could not consider pledging allegiance to the Crown, but might work with Britain as does India as a republic within the Commonwealth.

Clear the Air Says John D.

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker today scorned a Russian suggestion that Western proposals for Arctic aerial inspection be referred to a summit meeting.

"There is no reason for that," Mr. Diefenbaker said when informed that Russia made the suggestion at the United Nations today as the Security Council prepared to take up the Western plan against surprise attack in the north.

"Such inspection should be a wonderful step forward. The U.S.S.R. thought things were taking place in the polar regions that were of such a potential danger as to have a debate on them in the Security Council last week."

The Security Council debated April 21 a Russian complaint, later withdrawn, alleging polar flights near its borders by United States bombers armed with nuclear weapons.

"The acceptance of inspection of the Arctic in areas of both the U.S.S.R. and Canada," Mr. Diefenbaker said, "would clear the air for both sides."

"We in Canada have nothing to fear from such inspection and we would welcome it as going a long way toward reducing tension in North America if the U.S.S.R. would do the same. If there were any foundation for Russian fears in that area, inspection would open the way to revelation of them."

Blistering Attack By Russ on Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—The Soviet Union today delivered a blistering attack on the United States plan for creation of an Arctic inspection system to guard against surprise attack.

Soviet delegate Arkady A. Sobolev declared Russia would not take part in negotiations proposed by the United States. Instead, he suggested that the whole question of safeguards against surprise attacks be left to a summit conference along with a long list of other problems.

Sobolev addressed the UN Security Council after U.S. ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge had appealed to the Soviet Union to agree at least to discuss a limited and experimental system of aerial and ground inspection in the Arctic.

The Soviet delegate charged that the discussion as proposed by the United States would leave the Soviet Union standing alone against a group of countries linked to the United States by military alliances.

'Sheer Publicity' Gromyko Charges

The United States had suggested that the participants include the Soviet Union, United States, Britain, France, Canada, Denmark and Norway, as well as any other Arctic powers that wanted to take part.

Lodge was mild and conciliatory in his appeal for immediate action.

Lodge addressed the Security Council as Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Moscow dismissed the inspection plan as "a matter of sheer publicity."

Earlier Sobolev laid before the 11-power council a formal proposal urging an early summit meeting and leaving all discussion of military inspection to such a meeting.

Lodge took no note of the Soviet proposal in pressing for private negotiations on the U.S. plan. He said today's council meeting could "mark the turn in the road for which humanity has been looking."

He said the United States is willing to separate the Arctic inspection question from the broader problem of disarmament and start with limited measures.

"If we can proceed gradually," he said, "and first experiment with limited measures of aerial and ground inspection, it should facilitate the subsequent expansion of inspection."

Monorail 'Ugly Coaster'

TORONTO (CP)—An elevated monorail to substitute for Toronto's proposed second subway would be "nothing but an ugly roller coaster," Transit Commission chairman Allan Lampson said today.

Wenner-Gren officials have estimated a 12-mile system could be built in Toronto for not more than $1,000,000 a mile. The east-west subway would cost about $200,000,000.

Big Welcome For Nasser By Moscow

MOSCOW (UP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic arrived here today for an 18-day state visit and received one of the greatest welcomes ever accorded a visiting dignitary.

Huge banners in the Moscow press hailed Soviet-UAR friendship and editorials said the visit was an omen of "fruitful co-operation" between Russia and the newly-founded Arab state.

Soviet leaders gave Nasser a mammoth reception when the sleek Russian TU-104 jetliner escorted by five Soviet fighters rolled to a stop before a waiting delegation that included President Voroshilov and Premier Khrushchev.

Voroshilov called the Arabs "fighters for freedom, independence and unified against the imperialists."

Nasser replied: "... I am convinced that our people and yours will do much to ensure the security of the existence of the people of our planet."

Arabs, Canal Firm Agree on Payments

ROME (UP)—The United Arab Republic today agreed to pay $79,240,000 compensation in seven yearly installments for its nationalization of the Suez Canal Co. In July, 1956. Final agreement was signed by Egypt and representatives of the old Suez Canal Co.

Nuclear Test Suspension Rejected by Macmillan

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan today rejected a suggestion that Britain's series of nuclear tests in the Pacific should be suspended until after summit talks.

The suggestion was made by Labor Leader Hugh Gaitskell in the House of Commons, after Macmillan had confirmed that Monday's blast over the Christmas Islands was in the megaton range — the hydrogen bomb range — equivalent to more than 1,000,000 tons of TNT.

Gaitskell declared Monday's explosion — first by any power since Russia announced suspension of her own tests March 31 — might bring a resumption of Soviet testing. He asked whether Britain is planning further tests.

Macmillan replied: "This is one of a series of tests not yet completed. I am not prepared at the present time to make any other statement than that."

"As to timing, the Soviet government made their announcement of their proposal to suspend tests immediately after the completion of one of the largest series of tests in history.

"The proper method by which this matter may be settled is by agreement with the three governments concerned."

Gaitskell asked whether the tests were "really necessary" before a summit conference.

The Prime Minister replied that the tests are of importance to Britain and that a section of the Labor party itself believes this country needs the bomb to use "as an instrument of negotiation."

Crippling Bus Strike Faces London Monday

LONDON (AP) — London firms today organized emergency transport for their staffs — everything from buses to bicycles — in the face of a scheduled strike which will bring the city's buses to a standstill next Monday.

Driver Killed

PORT HOPE, Ont. (CP)—A CPR freight train knifed into a big transport truck at a fog-shrouded level crossing three miles east of here early today. The truck driver was killed. Provincial police identified the dead man as George Burke, Victoria, Ont.

Some 1,000 motor coaches, many of them from the provinces, have been hired by bigger business firms to take people to work. But that doesn't solve the problem. More than 9,000,000 Londoners use the public buses every day.

Many will crowd into the already jammed subway train system. The train crews have called off plans for a sympathy strike to back the busmen's pay demands.

The bus stoppage seemed inevitable today after the London transport board and the Transport and General Workers' Union failed to agree on a compromise.

LONDON—Horrified officials of a firm that supplies dress material to Queen Elizabeth has learned that its girl employees are wearing copies to go dancing.

The designers and manufacturers protested that such things simply aren't done — and promptly suspended several of the girls.

Disclosure that the designs produced for royalty and swathed the figures of $15 a week factory girls came when detectives and an official of the Carlisle firm of Ferguson Brothers went to a local "hop."

They pounced on their first suspect when she whirled around the floor adorned with a dress that looked far more expensive than she could afford.

HARTFORD, Conn. — An all-night radio station reports that a woman telephoned to ask:

"Please play dance music at 2.30 every morning. My husband has his breakfast at that time before going to work."

"Before he leaves, he likes to dance a bit."

The station will comply.

KIRKMAIDEN, Scotland—Despite his family's pleas, 68-year-old Johnnie Logie was back today in the lonely cave he has called home for 30 years.

Logie was released Monday from hospital, where he was taken eight weeks ago after he was found ill and starving in the isolated Luce Bay area where he has his cave.

His family pleaded with him to return to his native village of Scone. But Logie said he intended to keep his 30-year-old vow to spend the rest of his days in solitude.

Skipper, Famed For Rescues, Dies Suddenly

NEW YORK (CP)—Capt. Leslie F. Banyard, whose 50 years of seafaring included hair-raising rescues and wartime combat, died Monday on a Bermuda golf course.

The 64-year-old English-born skipper was in the news three years ago when he juggled his cruise ship Queen of Bermuda through towering seas to rescue 10 Newfoundland fishermen in the southern Atlantic. The fishermen described Capt. Banyard's manoeuvring as "heroic" and "terrific."

Capt. Banyard commanded 10 cruise ships for the Furness lines during a 45-year period. He was in the Canadian navy for five years as senior naval control and sea transport officer for Halifax.

He was made an officer of the Order of the British Empire in recognition of his ability to lay out convoys and move them through the sub-infested North Atlantic. He entered the Canadian navy as a lieutenant-commanded and left in 1945 as a captain.

MORROW CASTLE FIRE

In 1935 he skippered a lifeboat crew from a cruise ship and guided it dangerously close to a burning vessel to pick up 34 survivors. That was off Asbury Park, N.J., when the Morrow Castle caught fire and went down.

In 1955, during hurricane-force winds, a Newfoundland fishing schooner, loaded with salt, was being swamped by seas near the Bermuda coast when Capt. Banyard raced to the scene. The fishermen said they had virtually given up hope when they saw the Bermuda Queen swaying toward them in the storm.

After ticklish manoeuvring all 10 men were yanked to safety and the schooner disappeared.

WORKERS END WALKOUT ON MALTA

VALLETTA, Malta (Reuters) — Maltese workers returned to their jobs today after a violent 24-hour general strike against British policy towards the island colony.

The order to return to work was issued by the Malta General Workers Union, which called the strike that brought the island to a virtual standstill.

Governor Sir Robert Laycock has banned all meetings of more than 20 persons and all demonstrations in the island for a period of three months. He signed the proclamation after a day of violence in which a tug and an army vehicle were set on fire, police stations attacked and police and buses stoned.

Transportation costs can be cut from 3.6 cents per 100-barrel mile to 2.7 cents by the construction of one large-diameter pipeline connecting Edmonton with Montreal, Mr. Brown said. The proposed line, he said, would be completed in 1960 to move 200,000 barrels of Alberta oil a day and by 1965 it would be shipping 320,000 barrels daily to Montreal.

International pipeline engineers were retained by the oil companies to examine the pipeline project and Mr. Brown said they were prepared to testify it was fully economical and practical.

He also told the commission representatives of Montreal and New York investment bankers would be willing to testify on all questions affecting the financing and economics of the line.

Police Rescue Slayer Suspect From Neighbors

ROANOKE, Va. (UP)—Police Monday night wrested an auto mechanic from an angry crowd of neighbors who had watched ambulance attendants remove the bodies of his wife and two children from his apartment.

Officers said they seized Grover Lucas, 49, from the hands of two men who were holding him while others approached. Six squad cars were dispatched to disperse the mob.

Lucas was charged with murdering his wife, Connie; 10-year-old daughter, Mildred, and nine-year-old son, Denny, and critically injuring his 15-year-old step-daughter, Dorothy Smith, 15.

Police said Lucas had clubbed his victims to death with a pickaxe Sunday morning and evidently had lived in the apartment with the bodies and his injured step-daughter until police broke into the home.

'AN ACCIDENT'

The bodies were discovered when Mrs. Fred Williams, sister of Mrs. Lucas, called police and reported Lucas had told a local laundryman that his wife had been killed in an auto accident.

Mrs. Williams said the laundryman, Mrs. Lucas' employer, told her Lucas had asked for his wife's pay cheque, saying she had been killed in an auto wreck in West Virginia.

The laundryman called Mrs. Williams to confirm the death, and she went to the Lucas home to check on her sister.

She was unable to get into the apartment and called police.

Police said a crowd gathered and two men seized Lucas, who evidently had been in the neighborhood, before squad cars arrived on the scene.

Price-Fixing Charge Against Paper Firms

OTTAWA (CP)—Nineteen pulp and paper companies have been accused by the Restrictive Trade Practices Commission of price-fixing arrangements in their purchases of farm-produced pulpwood in Ontario and Quebec.

A 230-page commission report, made public today by Justice Minister Davie Fulton, calls for "definite and complete abandonment" of practices "which restrict competition among them with respect to the purchase price of farmers' pulpwood."

It indicates that farm pulpwood prices, decided on at meetings of company representatives, were not always adhered to. But it concludes that the record of company actions after such meetings "makes clear that such prices were intended to be regarded as actual maximum buying prices to the fullest extent possible."

Mr. Fulton, in a statement accompanying the report, said consideration will be given to the question of what further government steps should be taken.

Commission hearings were held for two weeks last fall following a report by anti-combines investigator T. D. MacDonald.

His inquiry was begun after several members of the House of Commons charged in 1955 that various pulp and paper companies were agreeing on prices to be paid farmers and other small pulpwood producers.

Among large companies named in the report were Abitibi Power and Paper Co., Canadian International Paper Corp., Consolidated Paper Corp. Ltd., the E. B. Eddy Co., and St. Lawrence Corp. Ltd.

NEW APPOINTMENTS for three senior RCN officers were announced today by naval headquarters. Capt. E. T. G. Hospital Engineers Call Strike Vote On Wage Demands

Nine members of the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 918, at St. Joseph's Hospital, Monday asked for a strike vote to back demands for a 7 per cent wage increase recommended by a conciliation board majority report.

The medical superintendent, Dr. E. N. Boettcher, said in the event of a strike the supervisory staff would be used to carry on vital services.

The present wage rate is $1.65 an hour for firemen, $1.90 an hour for shift engineers and maintenance men, and $2.20 for the chief engineer.

Ex-Alderman Dies

KEREMEOS (CP)—Former Vancouver alderman John Dickenson Cornett died suddenly here Monday at the age of 63. Mr. Cornett served on Vancouver council from 1947 to 1953.

His inquiry was begun after several members of the House of Commons charged in 1955 that various pulp and paper companies were agreeing on prices to be paid farmers and other small pulpwood producers.

Among large companies named in the report were Abitibi Power and Paper Co., Canadian International Paper Corp., Consolidated Paper Corp. Ltd., the E. B. Eddy Co., and St. Lawrence Corp. Ltd.

Oak Bay Council Monday decided to hold up its $2,046 grant this year to the Capital Region Planning Board because the municipality has received nothing from the board.

Reeve Fred Norris said Saanich is getting most of the benefit.

A $30,000 expenditure is planned by the board this year. The master plan for the capital region was scheduled to have been completed two years ago "but I understand it is very incomplete," the reeve said.

Mr. Norris and other councilors protested the $400 increase for Oak Bay's share in operating the board.

"It's about time we cracked down on these budgets," he said. The request for the grant was tabled until a study is made of the board's present status.

Coung Patrick Birley, board chairman, said the master plan will be completed this year.

Council will present a brief to the B.C. Electric Co. protesting a 10 per cent increase in street lighting rates.

The council also agreed to pay a one-cent per capita levy to the Union of B.C. Municipalities to help pay for preparations of a brief opposing the application of the B.C. Telephone Co. for rate increases.

Council will ask the federal transport department to investigate the need for a buoy to mark Robson Reef off Oak Bay. Last week for the third time in two years a vessel piled up on the reef which is about 10 inches below water at high tide.

Chief accountant for Sidney Roofing & Paper Co. Ltd., he came to Victoria from Vancouver nine years ago after being in business there.

Survivors include the widow, June, and a daughter, Bonnie, at the family residence, 4311 Glenford.

Father Saves Wife, Son From Drowning in Pool

A Saanich father saved his wife and three-year-old son from drowning in a reservoir at 2:30 p.m. Monday.

Neither the mother nor boy could swim.

Carsten Petersen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Petersen, 374 Sparston, was taken from the pond unconscious but revived by Saanich police and firemen.

He was reported in good condition at Jubilee Hospital today. Mrs. Petersen was unharmed.

The boy was playing with Margaret Hunter, 5, and Marlon Hunter, 3, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Hunter, who employ Mr. Petersen at 374 Sparston.

They strayed to the reservoir, which is fenced, about 700 yards from the house, and out of sight of Mrs. Petersen and Mrs. Hunter, who were working in a garden.

The children had been warned to keep away from the pond, which drops sharply at the sides to a depth of about 10 or 12 feet.

Apparently Carsten wandered away from the two little girls and minutes later Margaret saw him in the water and ran to tell her mother and Mrs. Petersen. She ran to the reservoir and jumped after her son.

Mr. Petersen ran toward the screams of the other children from where he was working. He jumped in and pulled the pair to safety.

Mrs. Hunter had meanwhile called police. Constable Frank Briers and E. C. (Ted) Owens applied artificial respiration. They revived the boy just as firemen arrived with an inhalator.

It was estimated Carsten had been in the pond about four minutes.

Saanich Police Chief W. A. Pearson later warned all residents to cover water-filled openings such as ponds, swimming pools, wells and reservoirs, or else fence them off.

Mr. Hunter said he would replace the conventional fence around the pond with chicken wire so children cannot crawl through.

The PM Shows Courage

MR. DIEFENBAKER SHOWED courage and a change of mind last week.

Appearing before the national labor convention at Winnipeg, the Prime Minister said that "this is no time for drastic or over-demanding action by any sector of our economy. . . . We can't meet unemployment if we are priced out of world markets."

This statement was general and discreet in its wording but it required courage just the same. For the labor convention had just resolved to promote general wage increases this year and was evidently hostile to Mr. Diefenbaker's advice.

But his advice was wise. Both businessmen and labor leaders will be wise to heed it.

Nothing could do more to deepen the recession than unreasonable demands for wage increases by labor.

Even with our existing costs of production we are encountering that very danger mentioned by Mr. Diefenbaker — we are pricing our products out of world markets and hence working men out of jobs.

The Prime Minister's change of mind was revealed in another passage. He said that our economic problems in Canada stemmed mainly out of the American recession. He is right, as every economist has known for many months.

The fall-off in the American market for some of our exports, and then restrictions on them impelled by American unemployment, have gravely damaged our exporters of such things as timber, paper and minerals. The resulting slow-down in the export industries is the chief direct cause of unemployment here and indirectly it creates unemployment in other industries.

Since last spring Mr. Diefenbaker has learned a great deal about the economy of Canada and is to be praised for his candor in tacitly admitting his former mistakes.

A year ago and, indeed, during the recent election campaign, he was blaming the recession almost solely on the monetary policies of the former Government. He seemed to believe that a change in that policy, a reduction in interest rates, and easier credit would act like magic. They have had no such effect and can have no such effect until our export industries are revived by stronger foreign markets.

It is useless to go over again the old ground or to lament the spilled milk of two election debates in the last year. The practical question is what the victorious Government, having learned the facts of life, now intends to do about unemployment, the most painful result of the recession.

Mr. Diefenbaker believes that the peak of the unemployment problem has passed. Mr. Fleming, the minister of finance, speaking at Hamilton on April 21, said that "unemployment is declining at a gratifying and accelerating rate."

On the following day the official figures were issued in Ottawa and showed a sharp increase in unemployment as of March 22. The roll of Canadians out of work and seeking jobs stood at 590,000, an increase of 35,000 over February.

One of ten Canadians was out of work toward the end of March. Moreover, the increase of 35,000 unemployed between February and March is five times the average increase of 7,000 in that period of former years.

The Government may have private sources of information but no full statistical count of the unemployed has been made since last March. The figures being gathered by government experts now will not be issued until mid-May.

It would be shocking indeed if the May figures, covering the situation in April, did not show a sharp improvement. Spring always brings a rise in employment and if it failed to do so this year we would have to regard the present situation as something worse than a recession.

How much will the rise amount to? Will it still leave us with large-scale unemployment during the active months of summer and a still graver situation next winter?

These are the practical questions facing the Government as it frames its annual budget and its economic policies. We must wait and see what these policies contain and suspend judgment meanwhile.

It is encouraging, however, to see that the Prime Minister has grasped the core of the problem—the necessity of pricing ourselves into the market. Will business and labor listen to him? Will the Government, with its weight behind sound business practices and sensible wages?

Much hangs on the Government's answer. It is now entering its first real test of courage and wisdom. By midsummer we should see what kind of Government we have elected.

Major Health Problem

AS THE BLACK DEATH BECAME identified with the Middle Ages, so mental illness has become an integral part of our twentieth century.

Partly through improved diagnosis, partly because of the mental and emotional stresses of the civilization we have constructed, millions of persons today are found suffering from mental illness to greater or less degree. In Canada, some 70,000 men and women are receiving mental hospital care; it is estimated that at least one million suffer from some form of mental disorder.

These figures indicate that many who need treatment are not receiving it, that many of those in institutions are not getting adequate technical care. Doctors, nurses and psychologists are too few in number for the work that must be done, there are only about half as many clinics as are needed.

Mental health, indeed, has become Canada's major health problem, affecting more people than cancer, tuberculosis and polio combined. Nearly half of the hospital beds in the country are occupied by mental patients.

What is to be done? The Canadian Mental Health Association suggests that a good beginning can be made by inculcating a proper public understanding of the problem. Mental illness must be recognized as merely another form of ill-health, not the sinister and permanent destruction of character it once was considered. On this basis, the way will be cleared for provision of better and more extensive facilities for cure, as well as measures to prevent the onset of illness.

This is Mental Health Week, being observed across Canada in an effort to publicize the need and the remedy.

The individual can help by becoming associated with the Mental Health Association, by supporting the allocation of funds for treatment centres and professional assistance, and by giving sympathetic consideration to all who have passed through a period of mental illness and emerged to take up their place in life again.

The need cannot be met by neglecting to recognize it.

The Centennial Comes Alive

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S CENTENNIAL spirit came alive in Victoria at the weekend and the enthusiasm with which the concentrated program of celebrations was launched augurs well for its continued success.

This was not the first centennial event of the year. Those started on Jan. 1. But it was an occasion marking the first spectacular historical date—the arrival of the gold seekers from California—and the response of the public to the occasion left nothing to be desired.

Signs on the Highway

MOTORISTS DRIVING OVER the southern section of the Island Highway last weekend have reported the appearance of certain small commercial advertising signs by the roadside.

The emergence of such signs raises several questions. Are they legal? If they are not, then they should be removed at the expense of the people who put them up. If they are legal, does this mark the beginning of their growth in number and size until the landscape is defaced?

British Columbia has enjoyed a large measure of freedom from the billboard jungle. No one wants to see this growth creep up to mar the countryside.

Haggis and Totem

HISTORIANS and anthropologists have failed, so far, to note the close association between the Canadian totem pole and the haggis of Scotland. This is regrettable but hardly surprising. At first glance the totem pole and the haggis seem to have no resemblance. Certainly each is the tribal emblem and heraldic symbol of a powerful and artistic race. Neither the emblems nor the races can be confused. Outwardly both are distinct, recognizable and respected throughout the world. Nevertheless, within Canada, and only within Canada, a unique synthesis has lately developed. The totem and the haggis are involved in the same problems and seem likely to meet the same fate.

Hutchison

IN Victoria, capital of British Columbia, and in its centennial year, a new totem pole has just been erected at the entrance to the city, no doubt for the edification of Canadians and other ignorant foreigners.

Observe it well, glimmering and grinning, beside that circle of traffic where the two historic streets, Government and Douglas (already in existence as rough trails a century ago) join in an utter confusion of traffic. For this latest erection is full of profound meaning.

It is said that the city fathers spent $4,000 of the taxpayers' money to erect the new totem pole and only a taxpayer of the lowest sort, a civic miser or an ignorant foreigner would think of asking whether we got our money's worth. We got more than our money's worth. We got a joint lesson of myth and economics (the two subjects being almost identical anyway).

YOU will note, on close examination, if you can stop your car long enough in this vortex of traffic cunningly contrived to demoralize the stranger, that the new totem pole is not real.

It is not carved of wood by an Indian artist, like Mr. Mungo Martin and his sons who recently carved a real totem pole for the Queen. It is made of tin, clipped out with scissors and painted by some unknown artist in a fit of absent-mindedness.

In short, it is a palpable fake, a travesty on Indian art, a false passport to the British Columbia capital, a spurious sentinel at the city's gate.

You see here what has happened to the great art and religion of totemism. We are not only extinguishing it (except in the last surviving carver, Mr. Mungo) but are caricaturing and debasing it for economic purposes. A real totem pole costs time, money and high skill. A metal imitation can be knocked together in any tinmith's shop.

THE same thing is about to happen to that other sacramental device, the haggis. The Canadian Government, carrying the old principle of tariff protection pretty far, has excluded the haggis from Canada.

As an ultimate insult to the Scots who conquered Canada but have treated the conquered natives, Indian and white, with remarkable tolerance and generally governed the country from Macdonald's time with wisdom, the present Government has excluded the haggis because it is considered dangerous to health, unfit for human consumption.

Insult can go no further. But we had better leave this quarrel of honor to the Scots. They can look after themselves and their haggis. The fiery cross doubtless is flaming in the Highlands today and the haggis manufacturers of Edinburgh already have expressed powerful views in the press. Hell hath no fury like a haggis spurned.

HERE I speak with personal experience. An ignorant Canadian, I once accepted the gift of a genuine haggis from an exiled Scotsman, who imported it from Scotland and gave it to me with great emotion, as if he were committing his only child to my care.

Supposing that haggis was intended for human consumption, and finding myself without food in a summer camp after a day of labor in the woods, I heated up this round cannonball of nourishment and consumed it entire. It had a fine flavor and it continued to lie all night like a cannonball upon my metabolism. I almost died before morning.

It was only then, making discreet inquiries among Scotsmen and physicians, that I discovered the real purpose of the haggis. It is not intended to be eaten, except in minute quantities at Burns Night banquets. To eat it whole is, for any Scotsman, an act of cannibalism, punishable by death, which I narrowly escaped. I never repeated the experiment but I know all that a Canadian needs to know about haggis.

THE Government obviously knows nothing about haggis, if it imagines that this foodstuff will ever be eaten at the peril of public health. Clearly, then, the Government has other motives in excluding the haggis from these shores.

It is going to protect a Canadian haggis industry, an industry which will make imitation haggis, as the capital of British Columbia has recently made an imitation totem pole.

By sound economic principles we shall keep our money at home for our own workers, the tinmiths and chefs.

Somehow, though, I did not suppose that the Government, with all its majority, had been given a mandate to exclude the innocent cannonballs of Scotland and insult the true ruling class of Canada. Nor had I expected a fake totem pole of tin to stand on Douglas Street, which bears the fine Scottish name of British Columbia's first governor—a Scotsman, naturally.

Gibbon and St. George

As an English woman and a Catholic I would like to correct an erroneous statement in your article on St. George, martyr and patron saint of England, which appeared in the Times of April 27.

According to the so-called historian Edward Gibbon, St. George, a tyrannical archbishop, was lynched. The truth is, St. George having reproached the Emperor Diocletian for his cruelty to the Christians was himself subjected to atrocious tortures so the early Church called him the "Great Martyr." He was beheaded in 303.

Besides being the patron saint of armies and of England, he is acclaimed throughout the Christian world as the patron saint of the oppressed and persecuted. It is a strange commentary on Christian writers to find them quoting Gibbon, an avowed unbeliever, on matters of Christian tradition.

Humiliated

I was at the inspiring centennial thanksgiving service at the Memorial Arena Sunday evening.

I am an Anglican and I am sure there were many more there too.

Personally I felt humiliated and ashamed that we were not represented on the platform together with the many Christian denominations gathered there.

It's a great pity that on so great an occasion we could not have all come together in love and charity with our neighbors, as one big Christian family with humble hearts in gratitude to our Heavenly Father for the many blessings we have here in this great wonderful province of B.C.

I feel a golden opportunity of showing the true spirit of Christian love and unity was lost.

Last but not least I want to thank Mr. J. R. Wood and the great choir of wonderful voices for the inspirational rendering of The Hallelujah Chorus, also the Salvation Army band, always so much enjoyed.

(Miss) DOROTHY B. REEVES.

At Whose Expense?

In a recent editorial you stated Premier Bennett intended to wipe out all direct debt of B.C. by 1960. Your information is two years off schedule. In the last session of the B.C. legislature, Mr. Bennett stated he had reduced the direct debt to $37,000,000, and that amount would be completely wiped out in the present fiscal year. In view of the plight of municipal governments, hospital and school boards, an immediate disavowal of such intention should be demanded of the premier.

We have before us at this moment a communication and publications of the provincial finance department. Pertinent excerpts follow:

Collection of hospital premiums from individual citizens was abolished, sales tax raised from 3 per cent to 5 per cent in 1954.

From 1954 to July 1957 (latest figures available) gross receipts from sales tax, $208,617,686.

Quantity and Quality

SOME time ago, when three hundred irate farmers—and a cow—marched in protest upon the Provincial Government Buildings, the average citizen saw in the spectacle no more than free entertainment, an amusing combination of a parade and a circus-at-large. In fact, many of the more sober-minded dairymen stayed quietly at home and deplored the uproar.

But whether the idea was a good one or not, the actions of those angry men were at least understandable. By a single stroke of the pen, for reasons of political expediency which meant ruin for them and offered no benefits to the consumer, they had had their livelihood snatched from beneath their feet.

Heavy Losers

It is true that as the milk situation develops a few hundred Island dairymen will be the heaviest individual losers, since they will have lost not only their means of livelihood, but in many cases their whole capital investment as well.

But numerically they are a small group, while the consuming public is a large one, and it is upon the consumer that the heaviest burden will eventually fall—a fact which seems to have been totally lost sight of in the scuffle.

To explain this statement it will be necessary to deal for a while with figures, and let no optimist believe these dull figures will not concern him personally. They will!

The last price set by the Milk Board per cwt. of 4 per cent milk was $5.47, to which on Vancouver Island was added, until recently, a 70 cents "freight differential." This freight differential was intended to offset, at least partially, the extra freight costs borne by the Island dairy industry.

The price (allowing for some reduction due to artificially produced surplus, paid for at a lower rate) gave the Vancouver Island dairymen an average year-round price of about $6.00 per cwt. And since 88 per cent of all fluid milk consumed on the Island last year was home-produced, it follows that V.I. distributors were able to obtain 88 per cent of their supplies at this figure.

Basic Costs

The remaining 12 per cent had to be purchased on the mainland at a cost to the distributors of $6.82 per cwt. (This price was arrived at as follows: basic Milk Board price 5.47 plus a 23 cents bonus—voluntarily paid by mainland dairies because it was found that production of Grade A milk was not an economic proposition at $5.47—plus a 25 cents handling charge, plus 87 cents freight.)

It will be seen therefore that in obtaining Island milk at $6.00 per cwt., Island distributors were getting it at bargain rates. It should also be obvious that if production of Grade A milk at $5.47 in the Fraser Valley, where freight and irrigation costs are lower, was uneconomic, then on Vancouver Island production of Grade A milk at that price is impossible. Yet that is the price being paid at present.

In the Greater Victoria area the proportion of home-produced to imported milk differed slightly from that for the Island as a whole, being 92 per cent to 8.

In the same period, total payments for hospital services, $88,170,899.

Balance of sales tax revenue, same period, $120,446,787.

In the first year under the new act, sales tax revenue was $55,178,474. Payments for hospital services, $29,148,741. When it was found revenues greatly exceeded disbursements why was there not an immediate reduction of the sales tax to approximate disbursements?

In the 1957 to 1958 fiscal year the government bought a total of $57,000,000 in bonds of provincial agencies (Toll Bridges and Highways Authority, B.C. Power Commission, The P.G.E. Railway). These agencies were supposed to finance themselves by outside borrowing to be self-liquidating. We may only assume it was impossible to obtain funds on the market. What legal right has the government to use general revenue (including money collected for hospitals) to finance reckless expansion by agencies named?

Municipal aid, 1954 to 1955 was $5,500,000; 1955 to 1956, $7,261,630. If they had been receiving one-third of the Sales Tax revenue, in the same years (which the government deprived them of without consultation or justification), municipalities would have received $18,392,824 and $22,768,907 respectively.

Government share of hospital construction, a peak in 1951 to 1952, $3,652,918. By 1953-54 it declined to $2,704,313 (latest complete figures available).

Tenant Speaks Up

An open letter to Hotel and Restaurant Employees' Union, Local 835.

Your typed paper, entitled "The Facts About the Strike at the Ritz Hotel," reached me through the mail a few days ago. It is exactly the same as was distributed to the tenants at the beginning of the strike. Therefore it contains no fresh information.

You mention that "an overwhelming majority of the hotel staff joined the union." Actually these were two only, one of whom was quitting work for good, the other under orders to leave at the month's end. The conciliation board made recommendations as to wages and hours which the hotel management accepted but which the union rejected.

The only dispute is on "union security."

Your proffered "apology for any inconvenience you may cause the tenants of the Ritz Hotel," favors of rank hypocrisy. You state that you are "permitting the engineer to cross the picket line that he may maintain heat for our health and comfort." Yet you refuse to allow oil to be delivered for maintenance of heat and hot water.

We are in fact as a beleaguered city, but we do not intend to submit to the virtual dictatorship which some unions everywhere are desirous of establishing.

Freedom to work, freedom to accept or reject wages and terms is the right of everyone—freedom also, one would think, to run a business on equitable lines such as is being carried out at the Ritz "Hotel."

(Mrs.) RACHEL LARGE.

Suite 503, Ritz Hotel.

Common Disease

Bangs Disease, also known as Brucellosis and Contagious Abortion, is a common, infectious disease of cattle which can spread to human beings through infected milk. It is then referred to as Undulant Fever, and pasteurization, properly carried out, offers a high degree of protection.

That pasteurization is not infallible is now recognized in many cities in the U.S., where no milk may be sold, even if pasteurized, unless it comes from a Bangs-free Area.

The term "Bangs-free Area" means that all cattle have been blood-tested, all reactors destroyed, all calves vaccinated, and all cattle refused admittance to the area until they can show through blood-testing a clean bill of health. Vancouver Island-Salt Spring is such an area, the only one in southwestern B.C., and since the entire operation has been carried out at the farmers' expense, they must be excused the pride they take in their achievement.

There has been no government compensation, either for the value of the animals destroyed, or for the loss of income due to lowered milk production. To be able to claim their island as a Bangs-free Area was indeed a proud moment for the V.I. dairymen. It was also a fortunate one for the consumer.

Higher Price

It will be seen from the foregoing explanation that when the V.I. dairymen are finally eradicated—and the Milk Board Report for 1957 makes no bones about such being its intention—the Island consumer will be faced, not only with a sharp increase in the price of milk, but with an increased price for an inferior quality milk.

If the consuming public on Vancouver Island can be brought to realize how much it stands to lose both in cash and quality, so that people are willing to throw the whole weight of their support behind their own dairy industry—and their own interests—who knows what might not be possible in the way of increased production. Such a situation, being unprecedented, is also unpredictable. F. M. F.

The Old Frontier Spirit

THE young man in our newsroom was gazing at the "acreage" section of the classified ads through eyes that looked far beyond the print.

"I'd like to get a hunk of wild land," he explained. "I want a place with trees—at least one big tree to sit under, where I could see and smell and hear and touch nature, somewhere away from the exhaust fumes of cars and the noise of traffic."

"You're looking for a place to build a summer home?" he was asked.

"Nope," he replied. "I don't want a summer home as a summer home. I just want a hunk of wild land, where I can sit down under a tree."

And the discussion ended when the young man at the next desk said: "Come out to my place. We've got trees in the boulevard. You can sit under one and look at my front yard. That's wild land for you."

THE JIM BRIDGER IMPULSE

It wasn't quite what the first young man wanted. Somewhere in him stirred the impulse of a forgotten Jim Bridger and the old mountain men whose feet hurt from walking the packed roads of the cities and towns. They wanted out, too.

They wanted out because it was congested in towns, congested even in pioneer settlements. They wanted unclaimed trees to sit under, if they had time to sit. And they wanted to enjoy the society of their fellows in absentia, with perhaps a rendezvous after a year or so.

It wouldn't surprise me a bit if a lot of the young men with whiskers on their chins, who played the miners' arrival here last weekend, don't feel like the young man in our office on occasions.

And if Robert Service and the others who have created their own literature on the era are honest, the original miners probably felt the same way too. Or at least those of them prospecting long enough to realize gold rushes bring in more gold than most of them take out.

We're going to have a lot more young people looking for hunks of wild land in the future. They'll be in search of places where they can stretch, where they can slip off collar and tie, and shirt, also, if they want to.

While the trend grows, the hunks of wild land will become infinitely more scarce. It'll be hard to find a tree, a big tree, a man can call his own just to sit under.

As my young friend, looking through the "acreage" section of the classifieds, might have realized, too many people took the advice of John Babsone Lane Soule to "go west, young man." They came west. And as the centennial events are suggesting, they grew up with the country.

There's nothing wrong with that, but the country sort of grew up too. It gets harder to find a hunk of wild land.

Not so hard, though, that a man willing to look can't find it. Let him go north and there's plenty left. Only the man who settles it has to be a pioneer, not just play at being one. That's the rub.

In a speculative way, I'm all for this pioneer life. I'd like to go out and break brush when I felt like it, chop down a tree when I needed it, or felt I needed it, and work with my hands.

BUT NOT TOO PIONEER

But I wouldn't want to blister them too much. And when I'd worked up a good healthy sweat, I'd like to be able to find a decent bathroom with a good hot shower. I'd like to test my stamina on the trail, and wind up sleeping on a comfortable foam-rubber mattress.

I'd like to get away from crowds and telephones, but be able to reach either when I felt the need of conversation. That's the trouble with me and my fellow speculative pioneers. We want it both ways.

And we can have it, too, if we work hard enough on our first million, buy an airplane and acquire a hunk of wild land. The gold rush boys 100 years ago figured it just about the same.

By HILDA BEASTALL

As a result of the first evening of daylight saving there is a lovely wide strip of soil almost ready for planting.

When I have raked it down fairly level, into it will go the hardest of the annuals which have been growing along in flats of soil in cold frames.

Pink and cherry-red snapdragons are now fine bushy little plants, ready for setting into the border. The soil in this strip is a particularly stiff clay, but I know the snaps will do well there if they are cultivated frequently and given sufficient water.

Interplanted will be groups of the mixed muted colors of salpiglossis (painted-tongue) and the lighter colors of the Daylight Sensation strain of nicotines. A low edging of white alyssum will give a faint sweet perfume of new-mown hay all season until frost.

LOVELY SHADES

Another annual border will have dwarf Phlox drummondii "Globe" and P. cuspidata "Twinkles", both lovely in shades of pinks and mauves, yet so delightfully different in shape of petals.

As an edging to this second border, the compact Lobelia "Crystal Palace" (blue) and the new pink variety "Rosamond" will be added later.

All these annuals with the exception of the lobelia may be planted out now, providing the plants have previously been gradually hardened to outdoor conditions.

Frost has been prevalent for the past four or five mornings in many areas; this is one reason why the plants must be acclimatized before setting out.

Light frosts will have no ill effects on well hardened plants of the kinds mentioned.

I find it best to cut the soil into squares with an old table knife around each plant in the flat, and remove each plant with its roots intact, like squares of delicious gingerbread.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

MANY nervous people want to know what they can do for their compulsive thoughts. A sweet, lovely woman may be terribly distressed because in church she feels a strong impulse to stand up and curse the minister, or she may feel that she might sometime injure a child.

Some nice people are distressed because they are compelled to think lascivious thoughts which are foreign to their nature and their sense of morality. Others feel compelled to perform a lot of ritualistic acts, such as washing the hands six times before they go out. The last woman I found doing this said that she had an idea that by doing it she could keep her father from getting another coronary heart attack. She felt guilty because his first attack had followed a heated argument with her when she had lost her temper.

In many such cases a kind and sensible psychiatrist can help the person perhaps to accept his thoughts and not be upset over them. The great Dr. Austen Riggs used to tell his patients with evil thoughts to take their essential goodness for granted—which is a good idea. It helps many of my patients to know that most persons at times get unpleasant and unwanted thoughts. A great man once said that most of us would soon be kicked out of good society if the people around us could read our thoughts! We cannot always keep the troublesome thoughts from coming into our minds, but we can see to it that we do not make them welcome and help them to settle down with us.

CONVULSIONS IN CHILDREN

Mothers ask if fever convulsions in a child means that he will later have epilepsy. Figures vary, but the facts are that in many cases the child who is having convulsions in infancy will have petit mal (little lapses of consciousness) during his childhood, and he may have some form of epilepsy or an equivalent of epilepsy in his later years.

If I had a grandchild who was having fever convulsions I would want, first, to look through the family record to see if there was any epilepsy or anything that looked like epilepsy in the families of either the father or the mother. If so, I would be rather pessimistic about the future. I would then get electroencephalograms made of the parents and of the child. If the child is going to have epilepsy, there are nine chances in 10 that his electroencephalogram will show it. Also, in childhood he is likely to have temper tantrums; he may be difficult and hard to bring up. At school he may be a problem.

THE SENILE PATIENT

A woman writes: "My mother is 95 and is almost completely deaf; she is almost blind and because of a stroke suffered seven years ago she is mentally confused. About all she can do is to get out of bed and go to the bathroom. I'm her youngest child and am now 57. My sister took care of mother for three years, but this strain cracked her up nervously, and so I had to take over. Because I earn my living in an office, I had to get a nurse to take care of mother. Now, after two years of this expense, all my savings are gone, and my sisters take turns helping. A while ago my health broke and for six months I was too ill to work. With this, my business went to pieces. Now, what on earth am I going to do with my mother? At times she does not know me, but she is not insane enough to be put in a mental hospital. She is so helpless and so pitiful I very much want to make this last lap of her journey through the world comfortable. I'm working desperately hard trying to make enough money to support us, but I don't know how much longer I can stand the strain. When I crack up, what will mother and I do?"

I wish I knew how to write a comforting answer to this poor woman. I fear that society has not yet grappled sufficiently with this terrible problem of the person whose body long outlives his brain. The problem is going to get steadily worse, because every year now we doctors are learning how to keep these people alive. What I wonder is, can civilization long stand this type of brain. There are only so many workers in the world, and only some of these make enough so that they can carry someone or several people on their back. How long can they keep doing it?

CRAMPS IN THE LEGS

So many people keep asking about cramps in the legs at night, cramps that get them out of bed in a hurry and that can be relieved only by walking around, that several times a year I guess I will have to write about them. Usually one can get rid of them by drinking a glass of milk every day. If this isn't enough, at bedtime one should take a tablespoon of a syrup of calcium gluconate. Calcium makes our tissues less sensitive.

Depression Coming —Meany

WASHINGTON (AP)—Labor leader George Meany said Monday the United States is sliding into a depression. He predicted unemployment will rise to about 6,000,000 in June, barring some miracle.

The AFL-CIO president's gloomy appraisal came after a meeting of the federation's general board. The board issued a statement saying neither the Republican administration nor the Democratic Congress is living up to responsibilities to halt the recession.

Senator McClellan's shocking revelations about labor gangsters!

Even if you have already been shocked by the recent Senate labor-racket inquiries, you will find these revelations startling. For no man knows what labor racketeering has done to our unions—even to our country itself—as does Senator John McClellan, chairman of this committee.

Now, in The Saturday Evening Post, he reports to the nation and tells about this cancer as he lifts the lid on labor's treacherous underworld.

You'll follow the sordid rise of Dave Beck, Joey Fay, Johnny Dio, Jimmy Hoffa. You'll discover how thousands of gangsters have muscled their way into plush union jobs and fantastic pensions.

Be sure to read what Sen. McClellan himself calls "the most important statement of my nearly quarter-century in public life"—along with the laws he suggests as a remedy! Read "What We Learned About Labor Gangsters."

Are you too smart for your job?

If you are, you stand a good chance of being fired for incompetence! Or so says the Klein Institute—the organization that grosses over $1,000,000 a year for telling America's business leaders who's right for which job! Fish-Power Research Urged by Scientist

VANCOUVER (CP)—A top University of British Columbia scientist has come out for a $10,000,000 research program to solve the fish-versus-power riddle of the Fraser River.

Dr. Gordon Shrum, head of UBC's physics department, told the Pacific Northwest Oil Heat Institute convention here that solving the fish-power stalemate of the Fraser was more important to British Columbia's economy than the removal of Ripple Rock, the Seymour Narrows navigational hazard recently blown up in an operation costing about $3,000,000. He suggested that the federal and provincial governments provide a $10,000,000 research grant to an organization "such as the British Columbia Research Council to mobilize all our scientific and engineering resources" on the fish-power problem.

He said the program should be aimed at finding a way to develop the mighty power potential of the Fraser without harming the valuable salmon runs.

Macs Still Alive

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP) —Armand (Bep) Guidolin, an itinerant hockey player who joined Belleville McFarlands for this season at least, Monday night led his team to a 4-2 win over Kelowna Packers and back into the race for the Allan Cup.

The McFarlands, pre-series favorites for the Canadian senior hockey championship, won the first game of the best-of-seven final. Then they dropped three in a row to the hustling Packers and rested on the brink of elimination. The sixth game of the series will be played in Kelowna Wednesday and the seventh there Thursday if necessary.

Bep, after tours of duty with Detroit Red Wings, Chicago Black-Hawks and Boston Bruins in the National Hockey League, was playing-coach with the Macs two years ago and re-joined them this season as a player. For the record, he also played with Ottawa and Windsor after leaving the NHL.

CONSTANT MENACE

Monday night in this British Columbia interior city, 75 miles north of Kelowna, he skated like a youngster.

The swarthy forward collected one goal and continually menaced little Dave Gatherum in the Packer net.

Ed Marineau, Russ Kowalchuk and Gerry Goyer connected for the other McFarland goals while Moe Young and veteran Mike Durban scored for Kelowna.

Guidolin, who returned to Belleville to help former New York Ranger Ike Hildebrand build a team, scored the prettiest goal of the night. He streaked the length of the ice and, cutting sharply around the Packer defence, drove the puck into an upper corner past Gatherum.

Keith Montgomery collected two assists as the McFarlands took the lead and never lost it. It was 2-1 for Belleville at the first bell and 3-1 at the end of the second.

STRONG IN GOAL

Goalie Gordie Bell turned in a strong game for the winners. He blocked 38 shots compared with 35 by Gatherum.

Packers, led by Durban and former Calgary Stampeder George Agar, finished strongly in the third but ran afoul of Bell.

Referee Charlie Delziel of Montreal called seven penalties against Belleville, including a major to Minnie Menard, and five to Kelowna. Menard drew his sentence for cross-checking Andy McCallum in the final period.

FIRST PERIOD

1. Belleville, Marineau (Menard) 5:35.
2. Kelowna, Young (Durban) 11:05.
3. Belleville, Goyer (Kowalchuk) 17:05.
Penalties: Payette 2:00, Lavell 5:45, McCallum 7:25, Crawford 10:14, Bell (served by Bep) 11:55, Guidolin 13:35.

SECOND PERIOD

4. Belleville, Kowalchuk (Montgomery, Marineau) 7:41.
Penalties: Agar 2:30, Cohorn 4:20, Marineau 5:40, McCallum 10:45, Kowalchuk 13:45.

THIRD PERIOD

5. Kelowna, Durban (McCallum) 5:35.
6. Belleville, Guidolin (Montgomery, Bradley) 13:17.
Penalties: Menard (in a 10:1) 1:36, Gatherum (served by Bep) 1:36.

Kingston Body Ready to Fight For Shrine Site

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) —Hopes that the international hockey Hall of Fame will still be located here were given a boost by the local committee Monday despite the establishment Sunday of the Hall of Fame at Toronto's Canadian National Exhibition grounds.

James de St. Remy, secretary-treasurer of the local committee, said that mementos gathered in Kingston would not be turned over to the Toronto hall. "No other hall has any right to what the late Captain James Sutherland (original sponsor of the hall idea) gathered together after such arduous effort."

The CNE started last year to incorporate existing physical hockey assets in its buildings.

St. Remy said the Toronto hall was only a "CNE attraction" and was not authentic. He added the local committee intends to proceed with original plans to build the hall here.

Maurice Richard is a spoilsport.

Not only that, the most colorful player in hockey today is losing his sense of drama. And as the greatest all-time scorer in the game, his timing is terrible.

If support for the above statements is needed, we could probably round up at least 100 National Hockey League players who would sign a petition to that effect. Not to mention a few sports-writing types.

COACH McKINNON CLAIMS:

Pils Have Depth, Will Climb

Jack McKinnon has one consolation. The only way his Vancouver Pilseners can go in the 1958 Inter-City Lacrosse League is up.

When a team finishes dead last as the Pils did last year, there's no other way.

The sophomore coach was not whistling an idle tune over the telephone wire from Vancouver Monday night when he said, "We have more depth. We'll climb this season."

Predominantly rookies last season, McKinnon's Pils were not always last. Half way through the season they looked like the "Cinderella Kids." They were tied for first place and running the other clubs ragged with their youthful energy. That was before the mistakes that go with first-year players began to catch up with them.

As sophomores, they won't make as many errors this time and McKinnon has talked a few veterans out of retirement plans to provide additional experience and he has a fresh crop of talented rookies coming up to keep everyone hustling for his job.

But the Pilseners could be a ship without an anchor until goalie Dave Unwin winds up his school-teaching duties at Campbell River unless McKinnon lures rookie goaltender John Ferguson back into the fold today.

Ferguson, who was slated to guard the Vancouver nets, has been working out with

New Westminster Salmonbellies. But McKinnon has been doing some convincing talking and expects to sign the star of last year's Vancouver Junior Rockies today.

"We've got a solid defence and forwards to burn," McKinnon claims, "and if I sign Ferguson, we'll be a sound club."

When he sends the Pils out against Victoria Shamrocks in the league opener at Memorial Arena, Wednesday night, McKinnon will select defence combinations from veterans Campbell River junior McKinnon lures rookie goaltender John Ferguson back into the fold today.

Up front he will have Bill Barbour working with Alex Carey and Bobby Marsh on the first line, and Eddie Gosse, one of British Columbia's best-ever juniors who is stepping back into lacrosse, on a line with rookies Pete Black and Joe Salley, most valuable player in the Lower Mainland Junior League last season.

Lanky Fred Usselman, and Gordie Gimble, are slated to combine with Don Salter on the third attacking unit, and Don Cummings is scheduled for utility duties.

Also scheduled to action in later games are goalie Keith Johnston, Wayne Pecknold, Bud Parry, Spunk Oddy, Lorne Reelle, ex-referee Roy Burton, Bob Stuart and John Cervi.

Wednesday's action at the Memorial Arena starts at 8:30 p.m.

NEW YORK (AP)—A majority of United States sports writers recommended today that any home run record which may be set because of Los Angeles Coliseum's short left field fence be declared invalid.

An Associated Press poll of nearly 200 sports writers, editors and columnists showed 60 per cent are in favor of not recognizing National Leaguers who may top Babe Ruth's major league record of 60 home runs in one season.

Of the 193 replies, 116 voted "no" to the following question: "If and when a National Leaguer tops Babe Ruth's 60 homers, should he be officially recognized as the new home run champion?"

Ten of the 77 who voted to recognize any new home runs marks proposed a footnote, explaining that the record was set with the aid of the Coliseum's 250-foot left field fence.

The Coliseum had a handful of defenders who said the Polo Grounds in New York, old League Park in Cleveland, Baker Bowl in Philadelphia, Ebbets Field in Brooklyn and even Yankee Stadium, where Ruth hit 28 of his 60 home runs in 1927, were not much tougher for home run hitters than the Coliseum.

A single checking station at Pateros nabbed 102 fishermen for exceeding the bag or possession limit of 15 fish per person.

In Ephrata, two men were stopped with 130 fish over their combined limit. They were fined $250 and costs. Seven other fishermen from the Yakima Valley and the coast were arrested at Ephrata.

Besides paying their fines the fishermen also forfeited the excess fish.

Phil's Heroics Carry Canucks Game From Title

CALGARY (CP)—With their backs against the corral, Calgary Stampede must come up with a victory Wednesday night to stay in the running for the Western Hockey League championship. Vancouver Canucks now lead the best-of-seven finals 3-0.

A crowd of 7,169 saw Vancouver's Phil Maloney have a hand in each goal scored by his team Monday night as Canucks tightened their stranglehold on the Stamps, downing the Cowboys 6-2 in a penalty-ridden game.

Maloney fired two goals and assisted on four others. Walt Peacock also tallied twice for the West Coast squad, with Bill Dobbey and Jackie McLeod completing the scoring. Calgary marksmen were Milan Marcetta, who opened the scoring, and Sid Finney.

Both clubs fought through a scoreless first period before Stamps got on the scoreboard. Vancouver came back strongly, scoring three times in the second frame. Canucks outscored Stamps 3-1 in the final period.

CROWD UNHAPPY

The referee, Scotty Morrison, handed out 18 penalties, 10 to Vancouver. The crowd, apparently unhappy over the officiating, showered the ice with programs and popcorn boxes in the last period. Several hundred fans walked out of the rink in protest.

Neither team managed to get a shot at the goal for nearly seven minutes after the opening whistle sounded.

Marcetta opened the scoring with no one to beat but the goalie as Stamps got a break that put them ahead at the three-minute mark of the second period.

Canucks took the offensive when Calgary's Sandy Hucul was penalized for slashing and made it 1-1 on a shot by Maloney. In less than a minute Peacock back-handed a shot from 10 feet out to give Vancouver the lead.

Maloney broke into the clear three minutes later to score from Dobbey and Brent Macnab.

After McLeod made it 4-1 for Vancouver at 12:32 of the third period, Finney picked the right corner to beat Pelletier with less than two minutes remaining.

Dobbey got that one back promptly on a pass from Maloney, and Canucks completed the scoring less than a minute later when Peacock took a goal-mouth pass from Maloney to beat Al Rollins.

ALL WAS NOT SO SERENE BACK ON BRUINS' FARM

BOSTON (UP)—Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League today severed all relations with their Springfield farm club in the American League.

Bruins' general manager Lynn Patrick declined to comment on reasons for the action, but it was reported that satisfactory working relations could not be arranged.

Bruins used Springfield as a farm team for the first time this season, and the Indians reached the finals of the American League playoffs. They finally lost to Hershey.

Owner of the Springfield club is Eddie Shore, once a Boston Bruins' star himself.

NEW YORK (AP)—Los Angeles Dodgers are running ahead of the all-time record attendance pace while spearheading a National League increase of more than 50 per cent over last season.

The Dodgers have hauled in 377,601 customers in nine appearances at Los Angeles Coliseum. When Cleveland Indians set the big league record of 2,620,627 in their pennant-winning 1948 season they had 357,844 after nine home games.

Milwaukee Braves, who established the National League mark of 2,215,404 paid admissions last season, drew 196,746 in their first nine games in County Stadium in 1957.

Dodgers had a gate total of 109,520 in nine Ebbets Field games a year ago. The capacity in the Brooklyn Park is 32,111 and in the Coliseum it is about 94,000.

attendance to 965,306. In a comparable number of games last season it was only 642,586.

American League attendance shows an approximate 11-per cent decrease, largely due to gate slump by New York Yankees.

The loop has had 601,894 customers compared with 677,022. The Yankees, in five dates, have attracted only 81,891. A year ago they had 129,736 in the same number of appearances in their Bronx ball yard.

Weatherman Does His Bit

By ERNIE FEDORUK

If there's any single factor that tends to make any outdoor sports spectacle a success, it's the weather.

The finals are still to be played, but the Times Vancouver Island Open has certainly been an overwhelming success this year. Sunday's glorious weather, plus the fact that a record entry started in the Open this year, leaves no doubt that this year's tournament is the best on record.

Now, looking forward to next Sunday's 36-hole match between Laurie Carroll and John Merriman, we'll pause to knock on wood.

Sunday's gallery at Up-lands proved to be one of the largest ever to witness the Open semifinals. If the weatherman co-operates, you can count on another good turnout next weekend.

There appears to be an unusual amount of interest in the Victoria District Golf Committee's special centennial project, a men's Open Foursome scheduled to be held May 25 at Colwood.

It's difficult to find anybody that has not picked a partner yet.

Dick Hanley's prize committee has come up with a sparkling array of prizes (approximately 30) and, all in all, it looks a "must" on the golfing calendar.

SHORT CHIPS: Mel Carroll, 22-year-old son of the Gorge Vale Club president, came up with his first hole-in-one last week... playing with Hugh McWhirter and Gordie Cameron. Mel scored his ace on the 14th, using a six iron... 15-year-old Dickie Munn, the pride of Cedar Hill, who has reached the handicap final in the Island Open against Norm Beattie, averaged a little better than 220 yards off the tee Sunday... Dickie, who actually plays both Gorge Vale and Cedar Hill, has a rather attractive swing... Gorge pro, Joe Pryke, is among those most impressed...

Dr. George Bigelow, the defending champion, topped the qualifiers for the Victoria Golf Club championship at the weekend... the golfing doctor came in with a one-over-par 70, eight strokes better than Alan Manson and George Sparling... other qualifiers were Alex McKay,

The 18-hole medal event, based on half of the combined handicap, is open to a B.C. golfers, professionals and amateurs with accredited handicaps.

The local committee is going overboard in publicizing the event and a large number of out-of-town entries is anticipated.

Entry forms will be distributed to all clubs later this week. It might be a wise move to fill out an entry form as soon as possible to assure yourself of a berth.

Dick Clay, Doug Munro, Don Straith, Bob Bailey, Keith Olson, Walter Newcombe, Dr. M. McKay, Geoff Sheffield, Jim Barry, Allan Taylor and W. H. "Bill" Newcombe and Harold Husband.

Colwood's summer season officially opened Saturday with the annual field day and horse race... the long drivers turned out to be Harvey Patterson, Derek Rhys-Jones and Bill Fergie, while Gord Greenwood captured a prize for landing closest to the hole on the par three seventh... his tee shot stopped 16 inches from the cup... Laurie Kerr and Pat Delaney walked off with gross honors with their 41-39-80... the tournament, event, was won by Rhys-Jones and Bob Thompson... they scored a net 70-15... runners-up, with a net 70-25, were Greenwood and E. Fedoruk... third prize went to Oscar Drew and Tom Brunston, with a net 72-3-5.

Canadien Trio On Dream Club

MONTREAL (CP)—Three members of Montreal Canadiens, National Hockey League and Stanley Cup champions, were named to the 1957-58 first all-star team along with one each from Detroit Red Wings, New York Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks, the league announced today.

Gordie Howe of Detroit was named to the right wing post, Bill Gadsby of New York as Harvey's defence-mate and Glenn Hall of Chicago as goalie.

The first-team selections, by hockey writers, broadcasters and telecasters in the six NHL cities, duplicated the choices at the halfway mark of the season.

With 90 points at stake in each half, Harvey received the full 180.

PLANTE CLOSE

Jacques Plante of Montreal, second team goalie, was only four points behind Hall with 104. Other second team choices, and points:

Defence, Fern Flaman, Boston Bruins, 54; and Marcel Pronovost, Detroit, 46; centre, Jean Beliveau, Montreal, 80; right wing, Andy Bathgate, New York, 82; left wing, Camille Henry, New York, 62.

Each member of the first team receives $1,000 from the league and those of the second team $500.

It was the first all-star choice for Moore and Richard, who ran one-two as the NHL's leading point-getters for the season, and for Pronovost.

Harvey's choice was his seventh straight for the first team. Howe has made the first team six times and the second team three times.

Bathgate and Henry second-team choice, were also making their bow to all-star ranking.

Lawn Bowling

Members of the Lake Hill and Victoria West lawn bowling clubs will usher in their new seasons this week.

Lake Hill will hold its official opening at the club greens Wednesday at 2 p.m. and the Vic West bowlers will start firing at the jack Saturday at 2.15 p.m.

Both clubs have invited all persons interested in lawn bowling to attend the opening.

LONDON (AP)—The start of the World Soccer Cup championship is only six weeks off, but trying to pick the winner now is just as hazardous a business as it was 12 months ago.

"It's going to be the most open championship ever," commented Walter Winterbottom, manager of England's team.

The new-look England team, with its replacements for stars killed in the Munich plane crash Feb. 6, appears to hold the key to the big guessing game.

England goes on a continental tour early in May for matches against Yugoslavia (in Belgrade May 11) and against Russia (in Moscow May 18)—key matches in assessing form.

"Victories in these matches will give us plenty of confidence for the start of the World Cup in Sweden June 8," Winterbottom said.

Many experts rate Argentina, Russia and England favorites for the cup. The Moscow match will show whether the Russians and the English deserve to be so well-regarded.

The 16 teams in the world championship, June 8-29, are England, Scotland, Northern Ireland, Wales, Hungary, France, Austria, Brazil, Argentina, Russia, Paraguay, Mexico, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, defending champion West Germany and host country Sweden.

'Stooge Does Bidding'

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Governor A. B. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky said Monday organized baseball has become a monopoly and has forfeited the right to be dealt with as a sport.

Chandler, baseball commissioner from 1945 to 1951, said the office of commissioner, as he knew it, had been abolished and major league club owners "instead put in a stooge who would do their bidding first and foremost."

Actions of the majors contributed to the death of the minors, he said.

The governor made the comment when asked if he would testify in a suit filed against commissioner Ford Frick and the major leagues by Frank D. Lawrence, owner of a now-defunct Portsmouth, Va., team.

Chandler said he would testify if requested by the court. The suit, filed in 1954, is to go on trial soon in federal court for the southern district of New York.

Lawrence's suit asks $250,000 damages from Frick and the American and National Leagues. He owned the Portsmouth Merrimack, member of the eight-club Class-B Piedmont League which was disbanded in 1955.

His suit charged the majors violated rights by invading his franchise area with radio and television without his permission.

He sued after the majors refused his request for a "reasonable share of the profits from their operations in my territory."

Service Station Closing Hours Set in Saanich

Preparation of a bylaw governing closing hours for service stations was ordered Monday by Saanich Council.

The bylaw will allow service stations to stay open until 7 p.m. in winter and 9 p.m. in summer; it would also permit gas stations to apply to stay open 24 hours a day.

At the same time, council postponed until next week a decision on store closing regulations.

The proposed regulations sparked a lively discussion between Reeve Arthur Ash and lawyer Louis Lindholm, who claimed he represented about 90 per cent of the merchants in Saanich.

STORE HOURS

Reeve Ash favored throwing store hours wide open. He said he doubted Mr. Lindholm represented the majority of store owners.

Strongly opposing the reeve's proposal, Mr. Lindholm said Saanich merchants were against any move to alter the present store closing regulations hours.

Stores now close at 6 p.m. The merchants were asking for discriminatory legislation, he charged. They were seeking to force certain large stores to close and to allow smaller stores in the same category to remain open.

PETITION PRESENTED

Mr. Lindholm denied this. "I represent a group of more than 90 merchants—the majority of the merchants in this municipality," he said.

A petition signed by merchants opposed to any change in trading hours was submitted to the council by Mr. Lindholm. Council decided to check the names of merchants on the petition to find how many are Saanich ratepayers before taking action.

An open invitation has been issued the public to attend a meeting of the water safety division, Victoria branch of the B.C. Safety Council.

The meeting, which will feature a film on water safety, will be held in the Flame Room, B.C.E. building, Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Esquimalt Council's Pay Boosted Despite Protest

Esquimalt council Monday night gave itself a raise totaling $1,320 a year over loud but unheeded protests from Coun. J. E. Carey.

Reeve A. C. Wurtele's salary was doubled for a new high of $2,000. Councillors will receive $720, as compared to $400 previously.

Coun. Carey was the lone objector to the by-law which authorized council's first raise in six years. He had first suggested an amendment "that we do not raise any indemnities this year."

"With school costs and entertaining visiting dignitaries, expenses are too great for the ratepayers," he said. "I don't think they should be burdened with another increase."

The amendment was negative and therefore out of order, Reeve Wurtele said.

Coun. Carey then moved that salaries be reduced to $1,200 for the reeve, and $400 each for councillors.

There was no seconder for the motion.

In support of the by-law, the reeve said, "Esquimalt has been very well served by its councillors."

"They spend a tremendous amount of time working for the municipality and the pay allowed by the act is not out of the way at all."

"The municipality is not on the rocks," Coun. James Bryant said. "It is financially sound."

"It is entirely wrong to say we have a good financial standing," Coun. Carey shot back. "Wait until we find out what the mill rate is going to be." His negative vote was recorded. The councillor had earlier objected to Esquimalt's per capita share of $600 towards the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities convention here June 1 to 4.

"There is too much being spent for dignitaries and all that nonsense," he said. "Victoria's getting the best deal out of it. Who's going to come to Esquimalt?"

INCREASE OPPOSED

Backing for Petition Against Phone Rates

Esquimalt council Monday agreed to share costs of preparing a $10,000 petition opposing the B.C. Telephone Company's application for an increase in rates.

The municipality's share would be about $100 on a one-cent per capita basis.

A B.C. Electric Co. application for increased electricity rates was received and filed. Motion was passed authorizing the reeve to take any joint action with officials of other municipalities.

Separately the municipalities would be "like lambs led to slaughter," Coun. G. K. Sammon said.

SCHOOL PROTEST

Council approved a wire sent by the reeve to Premier Bennett last week protesting "the failure of the government to give an adequate contribution towards the increase in school costs."

An inter-municipal committee recommendation that local councils meet with the Greater Victoria School Board to study the proposed school budget was upheld by Esquimalt council.

No date has yet been set for the meeting.

The budget itself was tabled so that councillors might study it at length.

Strong recommendation that Esquimalt's budget this year provide for 20 new mercury vapor street lights and replacement of 216 old enclosed lights for a total cost of $6,100 was made by Coun. Sammon, fire and lights committee chairman.

Recent death of a number of Telegraph Bay area pets has been laid to the use of rat poison by certain residents.

Saanich police warned dog and cat owners to take special care of their animals and get prompt medical attention if poisoning is suspected.

Does the Moon Go Round the Sun?

The earth, the moon, the sun and all the stars are dancing a giant hoedown in the skies. The moon is a satellite and every satellite whirls around a planet. The moon whirls around its planet partner, the earth. The earth whirls around and around its partner, the sun. The sun is a star and all the stars are dancing around in a great cartwheel, the Galaxy.

This giant hoedown dances around faster than you can think. The sun whirls around the starry wheel of the Galaxy at the dizzy speed of 170 miles a second. The earth whirls around the sun at the breakneck speed of 18½ miles a second. The moon is about 239,000 miles from the earth. And it dances once around its partner every 27½ days. This hoedown of the heavenly bodies is certainly a very dizzy dance.

The earth takes a year to make one trip around the sun. It dances a wide circle, 180 million miles from side to side. The round journey is 600 million miles long. And as the earth revolves, the moon goes with it. The moon makes curlicues around the earth as the earth makes it big ring around the sun. So the moon does travel around the sun, though it dances around in a curly line rather than a straight line.

The moon is a little more than a quarter of a million miles from the earth. The sun is over 93 million miles away from the earth and the moon. Both the earth and the moon are round globes and the sun shines on only half of them at a time. The side of the moon which faces the sun is in daylight. The side of the earth which faces the sun is in daylight.

But there is even more to this heavenly hoedown. The earth spins on its axis like a top, and so does the moon. The earth spins around once every 24 hours. As it turns, first on one side and then the other faces the sun. The moon spins around on its axis once every 27½ days. Each day and night on the moon is equal to over 27 earth days.

Always Turns to Partner

The moon's day and night is equal to one trip around its orbit. It swings around, keeping the same face towards its partner. And that face is half the time in sunlight and half the time in shadow. We see only the area that is bathed in golden sunlight. The area which is in the shadow of night we do not see at all.

Daylight creeps over the moon slowly, very slowly. After all, each lunar day lasts about two earth weeks. It takes almost a month for one day and night to creep across the side of the moon which faces us. And we can watch it. We see the new moon grow to full moon then shrink again. Then the shadow of night falls and spreads over our side of the moon.

Meantime the moon is reeling around the earth. Its orbit takes it between us and the sun, then around to where we are between the sun and the moon. When we are nearer the sun we see the full moon. When the moon is nearer the sun, its far side is in daylight and we see no moon at all. Around and around the sun we go, the earth swinging

85 Married to 29 It's Her Last One

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — "We love each other, and I'm sure we'll be happy." With that emphatic remark, 5-year-old Mrs. James Baugh dismissed any and all rumors concerning her marriage Monday to a 29-year-old nifty newsboy who preferred her out of "all the pretty young girls he had ever seen."

The marriage ceremony went off in relative quiet. It was performed three hours ahead of schedule, because Mayor

Thomas L. Lemon refused to officiate before television cameras and "turn it into a farce and a sideshow." The couple agreed to the change in plans.

Mrs. Baugh, who is a great-grandmother and whose first husband died four years ago, nearly touched off a riot when she casually flung her bridal bouquet over her shoulder into the crowd. She said she would not need it again, as "this is my last wedding."

BING CROSBY
... spend time with family

Crosby Bows Out —'Nothing to Do'

NEW YORK (AP) — Bing Crosby said Monday he's bowing out of the entertainment business—unless some new project catches his fancy later.

"I'm actually retiring because there's nothing I'm really keen to do," the famed crooner said in an interview in the current issue of Look magazine.

"Not that I wouldn't get back into action if something great came up and I could grab it, but right now, it doesn't look as if there is anything."

Crosby, 54, said he was not making any formal announcement of his retirement.

"I just don't want to waste my time on something for which I've no enthusiasm. After all, the public is getting very selective both on movies and TV... they tear shows apart unless they're good.

"The best thing is to stay away from something you have no faith in. Otherwise, you're in trouble."

"I've managed to give, if I may be immodest, some good entertainment to the public. Unless I can maintain that standard, there is nothing for me to do but hang up the old throat spray and spend my time with Kathryn, my kids, golf, fishing—all attractive prospects to me."

Crosby said that in stepping out of the entertainment picture, he still has his "fingers" in other places. Loads of things to do.

VICTORIAN HONORED

SPOKANE (Wash.) (AP) — Stanley Peale of Victoria was guest of honor Monday at the 21st annual northwest conference of musicians.

Paint Thinner Blast Fatal to Two Boys

TORONTO (CP)—Don Starr, 11, and Ronald Miller, 12, were killed Monday night and two other boys, one of them a brother of young Starr, were critically burned when a can of paint thinner exploded in an auto body shop.

Hospital officials said 13-year-old Paul Starr and Richard Tustin, 9, were in "very bad condition," suffering third-degree burns to most of their bodies.

Police said one of the boys apparently struck a match and

Standing Room Only For National Ballet

VANCOUVER (CP)—The National Ballet Company of Canada appeared here Monday night to a sell-out house in a performance of three of the company's regular pieces.

The 76-member company, here for one performance during a 10-week tour of North America, staged "Die le Carnaval," set to music by Robert Schumann, "Winter Night" and "Offenbach in the Underworld."

Jeffrey Cross, of The Province, had particular praise for Vancouverites Lois Smith, prima ballerina, and premier danseur David Adams.

"For Adams particularly the occasion was an unqualified success," Mr. Cross said. "His delicious sense of humor brought a necessary gaiety and sparkle to 'Le Carnaval.' Without this injected spirit of liveliness, the ballet as a whole was light-hearted but lacking in necessary enthusiasm."

"Winter Night," set to music by Rachmaninoff, gave Mr. Adams, Miss Smith and Lillian Jarvis "a chance to display their fine technique and authority," Mr. Cross said.

"Offenbach in the Underworld" was notable chiefly for the grace and "amplifying artistry of the ballet's director, Celia Franca, and a rousing can-can finale."

Canada is second to none in mining technique, federal director of mines and technical services Dr. John Convey told Canadian Club here Monday.

Although Canada is not a world leader in research and productivity, he said immense technical strides had been made in metallurgy here in the past 15 years.

Taking Canada's age of metallurgical progress as 15, he said the comparative age for Britain and Germany would be "about 150," and 60 in the U.S.

Dr. Convey said that great strides in the development of metals have resulted from research work in atomic energy.

URANIUM DANGER
"Extraction processes used for uranium and plutonium refining have greatly contributed to the development of metals for jet and rocket engines."

One of the biggest problems in the handling of uranium and plutonium, he said, was that of disposal.

"One-millionth of a gram of plutonium in contact with your skin will kill you instantly."

"We cannot dump these materials into the sea and as some of them have thousands of years of life and storage is difficult," he said.

DIGESTFlag-Raising Marks Sooke's
Centennial Fete

SOOKE—Sooke marked the official opening of B.C.'s centennial celebrations with a flag-raising ceremony at the Community Hall Sunday.

Eric Butler, chairman of the Sooke centennial committee, presented the flag to John Wilson, newly elected president of the Sooke Community Association.

Rev. Robert Wray of Knox Presbyterian Church, resident minister in Sooke, read a prayer of thanksgiving.

During flag raising, pupils of Sooke Elementary School sang a centennial song, "From Rockies to Pacific," composed by their teacher and director, Laurie Simpson.

Pioneer scrolls were presented to Mrs. Eliza Noury, a life-long resident of Sooke; Thomas Hickey and Louis Morrell, born in Victoria, but all residents of Sooke for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gray received a scroll for outstanding service to the community. Mr. Gray was one of the original directors of the community association, formed in 1934, while he and Mrs. Gray have been ardent workers in community affairs, particularly for young people, since coming to Sooke in 1919.

Two small girls, Heather Butler and Brenda Jones, presented bouquets of spring flowers to Mrs. Noury and Mrs. Gray, while Mrs. G. A. Acreman, secretary of the centennial committee, pinned boutonnières on the gentlemen.

The Belmont Jr.-Sr. High School Band added to the afternoon's enjoyment with a program of old-time and modern selections on a "century of music" theme. Bandmaster D. R. Kerley conducted the 50 girls and boys, smartly uniformed in blue and white satin capes.

About 100 persons gathered at Whiffen Spit for the beacon fire lit by Eric Butler at 9:30 p.m.

—MAGISTRATE OBLIGED

NANAIMO—Nineteen-year-old Dominic Phillips Monday asked for and got an Oakalla Prison term.

Phillips, on parole from the Boys' Industrial School at Haney, told Magistrate Harold Hine in police court that he would prefer the jail sentence because "then I can leave the province if I want to when I've served the term."

Phillips, charged with entering a residence April 25 and striking a woman, was obliged by Magistrate Hine who sentenced him to one year definite in Oakalla.

NO TAX RAISE?

New Challenge To Schools Act

PORT ALBERNI—A firm of Vancouver lawyers has informed city council that taxes for school purposes may be levied on the actual value of land and improvements on property covered by a fixed assessment agreement with MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd.

The advice means, according to a report submitted to council, there probably will be no raise in Port Alberni's mill rate.

After a study of the Public Schools Act a special committee on school costs which had been set up by the council reached the decision that the fixed assessment agreement had been invalidated insofar as taxation for school purposes was concerned.

Mayor Loran Jordon and city clerk H. D. Thain checked with the Vancouver firm and had the opinion confirmed.

Earlier the grant of $105,000 by MacMillan & Bloedel under the fixed assessment agreement in lieu of taxes had led council

ENDURING MONUMENT TO CENTENARY

Twin oaks were planted in St. George the Martyr Churchyard Sunday in honor of B.C.'s centenary by Victoria pioneer Frank Hobbs, left. At rear are

... HERE AND THERE ...

With NORMAN CRIBBENS

Mainly out of curiosity I put a quarter into one of those photo machines downtown and was flashed four times by an automatic camera.

Then the thing started whirling, clanking and thudding as if some bad-tempered robot map inside the cabinet had been wakened out of a snooze.

It's a small world nowadays . . . A. W. J. Shepherd, an elderly man living at Leigh-on-Sea, Essex, Eng., writes: "We had a fine view of your Ripple Rock explosion on British TV. It was quite a bang, wasn't it?"

A Cadboro Bay couple forgot to put their clocks forward to Daylight Saving Time and arrived one hour late for the Sunday morning service at St. George the Martyr.

On entering the church they and told to process my picture.

Two minutes later the machine emitted a kind of grunt and disgorged a photo of a buxom blonde woman!

That's the worst of automation. There is no one to argue with, and this machine obviously had a hangover. It gave my portrait to the next customer.

noted with horror that Padre William Hills was about halfway through his sermon. They turned to leave but the padre stopped them from the pulpit.

"Don't run away," he said. "We'd rather have you on standard time than not at all."

Talking of time, I am asked to believe there is an elderly Victoria man who stays on standard time while his wife observes summer time.

I am told, too, that they are still on speaking terms.

P. E. Hughes of Saanich sends these lines in honor of the April 30 deadline for filing income tax returns:

The government, it is probably true, Will take care of me and take care of you; Take care of our birth, take care of our death, Take care of our first and our final breath, Take care of our marriage, take care of our rent, But who will take care of the government?

TOPICS OF THE DAY

The Victoria Western Horsemen's Club pulled the "stage coach" holdup Sunday of touring photographers in convention here, not the Colwood Trail Riders as reported.

The mounted riders stopped two buses and the "robbery" was a facsimile of the real thing, except the loot.

A "Mountie appeared on the horizon and drove the "bandits" away.

Tara Singh, 406 Garbally, was fined $10 and ordered to pay a $25 licence fee when he pleaded guilty in Esquimalt police court Monday to soliciting the sale of firewood without a permit.

David B. Gregson, Duncan, was fined $250 and his driver's licence was suspended in Esquimalt police court Monday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while impaired.

There are still a few vacancies for veterans who want to attend the "Build Your Own Home" course at the Fairley Technical School, VLA officials said today.

Vancouver Island Play Group Association will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Play Group Hall, off Hastings Street, behind Strawberry Vale School.

Speaker is Miss Marjorie Smith of the University of British Columbia. A film "It Takes a Long Time to Grow Up" will be shown.

Rummage sale of used clothing and miscellaneous articles will be held at the Art Gallery Friday at 7 p.m. and Saturday at 9 a.m.

Proceeds will help furnish the gallery's new wing.

The 25-member Quadra School symphony orchestra won a first-place certificate at the recent Vancouver music festival.

A meeting of Texaco dealers and McColl-Frontenac selling personnel from the Greater Victoria area will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Monterey Restaurant.

Peter Kalonoff, a tailor at 810 Yates, said someone forced a rear window and stole 30 suit-length bolts of cloth, one suit and two pairs of trousers with a total value of about $1,000.

Stiffer Rules For Car Trailers

Vacationers who use trailers or tow their own boats to B.C. holiday spots face new and stiffer regulation after July 1.

Trailers weighing more than 1,500 pounds, or those weighing more than half the weight of the car towing them, will be ruled from the road unless they are equipped with brakes.

Trailers must also have tail lights, reflectors and lights illuminating licence plates.

The new regulations were approved Monday by the B.C. cabinet following recommendations by the Motor Vehicle Branch.

Standards of air brakes on commercial vehicles have been tightened and sale of signal lights not approved by the government department now is barred.

The new regulations call for "adequate mufflers" and bars any tampering with the manufactured item.

Other changes call for passenger cars to have brakes which will stop a car driven at 20 miles per hour in 25 feet instead of 37 feet as previously ordered.

Larger trucks and trailer trucks must be able to stop at 20 miles per hour in 40 and 50 feet, respectively.

For the first time there is legal requirement that a driver following within 500 feet of another must dim his lights. This has been a courtesy regulation in the past.

Local Man Named Vice-President By Photographers

George N. Y. Simpson of Victoria Monday was elected vice-president of the Professional Photographers Association of B.C. at the eighth annual convention underway at the Empress Hotel.

Donn Williams, Vancouver, was named president.

Other officers elected were Gordon Pinkerton of Vancouver, treasurer; W. Powell, Vancouver, secretary, and among directors, John Price, Roy Strable, Paul Jones and Will Gibson of Victoria.

Three Victoria photographers received honorable mention for submissions being shown among 300 pictures on display at the hotel.

They are R. L. Colby, the retiring president, B. H. Atkins and Jack House.

Trophy awards will be presented the chief winners at a banquet tonight at which Professor Anthony Emery of Victoria College will speak.

An illustrated lecture by Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the Provincial Museum, was given today and a bus trip to Butchart Gardens was slated this afternoon.

No Free Collection

City works committee today decided against extension of free garbage collection to apartment buildings.

City engineer J. C. Garnett reported that elimination of a 35-cent charge for removing each apartment building garbage can, after a first "free" one, would cost the city up to $40,000 annually in lost revenue and increased costs.

POPPED BY HEAT

Sun Culprit In Mystery Of Balloons

By JOHN MIKA

The smiling sun, Victoria's pride and joy, today was named the culprit in the mysterious case of the deflating centennial balloons.

A trial of the indictment was scheduled immediately in the city works yard where thin plastic bags were to be used to prove the point.

Jury empanelled is the Greater Victoria centennial committee, perturbed by the frequent deflation of the balloons erected in the downtown area.

Ald. Geoffrey Edgell, committee chairman, Monday asked for special police surveillance of the balloons to cover the possibility that pranksters somehow were shooting them down.

However, city engineer J. C. Garnett came up with a scientific solution to the problem.

The balloons were painted before shipment to Victoria and the city engineer believes the heat of the sun has caused the oil-base paint to penetrate the canvas covering and damage the rubber bladders inside.

Solution is a thin plastic bag impervious to oil damage—to sheathe the rubber bladders. Experiments with these were to be conducted today to see if they will overcome the problem.

Starving Boy Hid 6 Days in Brush

Wracked Up With Bad Ankle, Escapee Captured by Police

A 17-year-old boy lay helpless and starved for six days in the brush before his capture by police Monday.

Terry Hindley Augustine of Surrey, on the run from Brannan Lake School since April 3—lay aching with hunger in Metchosin, unable to move because of an injured ankle.

RCMP easily caught him on a nearby beach Monday afternoon, hobbling as he tried to flee.

Monday was his 17th birthday. Augustine was thin from lack of food, but a doctor who examined him said his ankle was healing satisfactorily.

He hurt it when he fell over a 150-foot bank, slippery with rain.

The boy ran away from Brannan Lake after serving three months of a sentence.

Augustine today pleaded guilty in Colwood RCMP court to two charges of breaking, entering and theft in Colwood-Metchosin area during his escape and was remanded one week for a probation report and sentence.

Police found him after a

REEVE ASH

Saanich Reeve Quitting Post To Move Away?

Reports were current today that Reeve Arthur Ash of Saanich may shortly leave the city to take a business appointment and will resign his post as the head of Greater Victoria's second largest municipality.

Mr. Ash declined to make any comment on the report, other than say:

"When and if I have anything to announce on the matter I will say it at the appropriate time and place."

Mr. Ash is now serving his second two-year term as reeve of Saanich, having been re-elected last December.

FAVORS AMALGAMATION

A former Liberal MLA for the district, he has been extremely active in the move for closer co-operation between the four municipalities with the ultimate idea of Greater Victoria amalgamation.

He has also conducted a vigorous campaign for modernization of the Saanich administration.

Normally his term would not expire until December, 1959.

CD APPEAL FOR FIREMEN AND POLICE

Greater Victoria civil defence headquarters today appealed for recruits to supplement auxiliary fire and police forces.

Men between ages of 21 and 35 should phone 2-7533 or 2-1922.

Instruction will be provided by trained men, CD co-ordinator Commodore V. S. Godfrey said.

Juvenile Charged In Attack On Immigrant

One juvenile has been charged in connection with the assault Saturday night of immigrant Roland Drescher, 19, 1414 Gladstone, at Government and Fort.

Drescher told police he was walking with his brother Peter and was just joined by a third young man when two teenagers came up and struck him.

He said "They put the boots to my eye . . . They fight anyone who doesn't speak like a Canadian."

Drescher was given emergency treatment for a severe cut.

Smart, Crisp Sports Duds Have Gone Centennial!

By PENNY SAVER

Dress centennial in crisp and fetching shorts, slim jim pants and skirts made up in anniversary pattern. Set on white, little pictures of trees, mountains and flowers are scattered all over the material. They're washable and the bright colors are fast. Slim jims are $3.49; shorts, $4.95, and skirts at $6.95.

Head scarves are also adorned with symbols of the provincial centennial year! Set on a white background, the crest on each scarf stands out like a colored sign. Wear this topical scarf on your curls or around your neck... and see the admiring glances you'll receive. It's price tag says 89 cents.

Sun's warm and bright, so I'm going to suggest that sun tanners hurry on out and start basking! To get a golden tan (or what ever you get) on your legs, you'll need a pair of short shorts. They're adorable of terry towelling in butter cup yellow or milk white! There's a zipper at the back, too! Shorts sell at $4.95.

"Bermudas!" Hurrah for those snappy long shorts that keep knees cool, but the top of the legs warm! Worn with knee socks, Bermuda shorts can be worn for sports, lounging or walking. I've seen braver souls even wearing them to town to shop. Bermuda shorts in town just now include denims with pin stripes running from waist to knee hem. They're in women's sizes 12 to 18. The price? Very reasonable at $3.50 a pair.

Knee high socks to wear with your "Bermudas" are out again on the counters. Actually knee socks are very practical for they can be worn with wool skirts all year around. I've found several pairs in navy and grey at $1 for all-wool and $1.50 for nylon and wool mix.

Start getting a playtime wardrobe together, because summer is nearly here! Phone me at 2-3131. I'll tell you where I saw these items.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Your Toes Tell Type Of Shoe Best for You

"You cannot put the same shoe on every foot." This bit of wisdom comes from Publius, a Greek sage who lived in 42 B.C. However, after watching the shoes go by—and the feet in them—I am convinced that too many women keep trying to do so.

Although the needle-pointed toe is the most touted fashion in women's shoes this season, not every woman can wear these shoes nor are they the only new style. Many soft and supple leather shoes are available in interesting styles for every occasion and for every woman. These mold the foot with ease.

Despite their pliancy these soft leathers give support which is especially important when wearing mule backs or sandals which bare the feet.

Foot specialists advise women to take a good look at their toes before deciding what type shoe they can wear with comfort. The toes are the clues! For instance, if your toes taper up to the big toe your foot is made to order for the pointed-toe shoe. You probably will find this style most comfortable.

The pointed-toe shoe is also a good choice for the woman whose second toe extends past the others. The toes spread with each step and the long second toe will be in direct line with the point of the shoe.

Women who have squarish feet or those whose toes taper only slightly should avoid the extremely pointed shoes. They are not only unbecoming but will be uncomfortable. If you have this type foot, select one of the more modified styles. These are slim and tapered but there is no accentuated point to cause pressure and to "buckle" the toes.

Women who have fleshy feet also will be more comfortable in the modified line. If you have a tendency to swollen ankles, of course you should see your doctor about this condition. However, many women have a tendency this way when there is no organic or systemic disease. These women should choose the shoe with a lower V-cut throat rather than the high-cut vamp which may bind the feet.

Do you remember what a thrill it was each spring when, as a child, you first went barefooted and felt the grass between your toes? It is that time of year again and adults would also profit by this fun! Walking barefooted is a splendid foot exercise if you will grip the grass with your toes.

If you would like to have my exercises for the feet, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 14. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

For Hazel Johnson

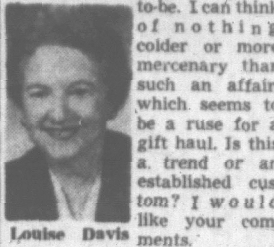

A miniature telephone booth held gifts for Miss Hazel Johnson at a shower given by Miss Sally Williams at her home at Glen Lake. Assisting the hostess were Miss Catherine Creaser and Miss Margaret Williams. "Good Luck" was written across the top of the shower cake that centred the refreshment table flanked by vases of tulips. Guests included the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. A. Johnson; her grandmother, Mrs. S. Butts, and the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. R. Birtwistle.

Also invited were Mrs. J. Callary, Mrs. M. Dyer, Mrs. O. Streitz, Mrs. T. Turcotte, Mrs. B. Hughes, Mrs. B. Gornuk, Mrs. R. Oliver, Mrs. R. Saunders, Mrs. C. Waters, Mrs. J. Callan, Mrs. N. Keane, Mrs. H. Jane, Mrs. A. Scott, Mrs. G. Rankin, Mrs. R. Frazer, Mrs. S. Birtwistle, Mrs. S. Sabell, Mrs. E. Smith, Mrs. J. S. Williams, Mrs. W. Lawery, Mrs. S. W. Starkey, Mrs. F. LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

"Gift teas" and "money teas": Recently I have been hearing about "gift teas" for the bride-

Louise Davis answers:

Let's hope that the gift tea is only a trend that will quickly pass. Friendships are much more important than the greed of gift-hauls at social functions. The thousands of protests being made indicate that you are not in the minority. A gift tea is bad enough, but a money tea is even worse and those are unfortunately creeping into the social world. It is apparent that both hostess and bride-to-be are more interested in gifts and cash than they are in the delightful occasion of the getting together of friends. When materialism overshadows the value of friendship that cannot possibly be purchased, we are spiritually travelling on very thin ice. It is about time that the irate public campaign violently against this abhorrent abuse of manners and breeding. Such a campaign might help to push the pendulum back the other way into a more heart-warming existence. One way would be for a party hostess to, put her foot down against imposing such obligations on her friends. She has the right to save her own soul. She can say "yes" for a tea, but "no" for gifts.

Hospital Provides Many Duties For Public Health Co-Ordinator

Mrs. Kathleen Allan is what you might call a "nurses' nurse." Her 200 charges at St. Joseph's Hospital are all student nurses, X-ray and laboratory technician students, who must be kept in best of health.

It is Mrs. Allan's job to tend to their minor ills... colds, skin rashes, ear aches and the like... to immunize and vaccinate them against disease and watch their diet to make certain it is well balanced and supplemented by vitamins.

As if this weren't enough to keep one woman busy full-time, Mrs. Allan also acts as a liaison between St. Joseph's Hospital, the VON and Public Health Services. She arranges for the Public Health nurse to meet the patient while he is in hospital, then meet the family at home.

Mrs. Allan also teaches community health nursing and communicable disease nursing.

And there is yet another phase of her work to account for... Mrs. Allan visits all maternity patients and informs them about services such as clinics, Public Health and VON.

Her title, "Public Health Co-Ordinator," probably sums up all phases of her job as completely as possible.

Asked when she took her training, Mrs. Allan was evasive.

"When I took my training," she said, "they chiselled orders in stone. Paper hadn't been invented!" So the year remains a mystery.

She was more willing to talk about where she took her training, revealing that she studied at Hale Hospital in Haverhill, Mass., but wrote her exams in Yarmouth, N.S., when an emergency appendectomy detained her there during a visit.

She worked for the Victorian Order of Nurses, in Yarmouth for four and a half years. There she met and married her husband, whose occupation took them to Shanghai, China, for 12 years.

In Shanghai, Mrs. Allan, along with several others, helped a Chinese doctor start a hospital for abandoned girl babies, children of very poor people.

In 1942, Mr. and Mrs. Allan were repatriated by the Japanese in the diplomatic exchange and returned to Halifax, where Mr. Allan joined the army.

From Halifax they went to Ottawa where Mrs. Allan was employed at the Royal Ottawa TB Sanatorium for over a year. Then, the Allans made their move to Victoria.

For six years Mrs. Allan was Public Health nurse in Saanich. It was in September of 1956 that she joined staff of St. Joseph's Hospital.

She refers to her work as "vitaly interesting." A warm-hearted, kindly woman with a phenomenal memory for names, Mrs. Allan can refer new students by name after knowing them for a matter of days.

Just a few days ago, she passed a woman in the hall at the hospital and greeted her by name. The woman was astounded and said, "I'm amazed, Mrs. Allan... I've only met you once, and that was six years ago!"

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Federal District Judge Edward P. Murphy signed an order Monday restraining the U.S. Immigration Service from taking into custody or deporting William Heikkila pending final determination of his appeal.

City works committee today recommended that one-hour parking meters be extended in the Chinatown area to include both sides of Government between Cormorant and Herald and both sides of Fisgard between Government and Store.

LOCAL NEWS BRIEFS

Bill Stubbings of Victoria has captured three prizes, including one first, at recent model plane contests held in Nanaimo.

He took first in junior hand-launched gliders, second in lap racing and third for the best-finished model airplane.

The Victoria Model Airplane League will hold a field-day here at the Lansdowne field June 8.

Victoria will set a record in attracting delegates and visitors to a convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, Mayor Percy Scurrell believes.

He said today that 466 mayors, aldermen, councillors and wives have registered so far for this year's meeting June 1-4 in Victoria.

"I expect we will go beyond the 600 mark," he said. "That probably will make it a record."

The hummingbirds are back earlier than usual.

First report to this effect came today from Mrs. H. A. Taylor, 4054 Gordon Head Road.

"We don't usually see them until June," she said.

Royal Victoria Yacht Club placed fourth in the spring series of six races Saturday and Sunday on Seattle's Lake Washington.

The Victoria club placed ahead of the Seattle club. Winner of the total point events was the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club.

Mrs. Percy Scurrell, wife of Mayor Scurrell, will draw the ticket which will win the major prize of a $20,000 fully-furnished house at the Agricultural Exhibition May 17.

The draw will be made here midnight as the week-long Junior Chamber of Commerce fair winds up.

Frederick Basanta, no fixed address, was sentenced in city police court Monday to six months in jail for the theft over $50 value of a B.C. Telephone instrument at the Douglas Hotel.

Basanta was caught with an accomplice, previously sentenced to 18 months, walking down a street with a telephone valued at more than $200.

The forest fire season starts Thursday and last until October 31. During this time campers must hold camp-fire permits.

Penalty for infraction of fire regulations carry a maximum penalty of $300. Permits may be obtained from any forest officer or from the Langford Ranger Station.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

Bank Thugs Elude Tracking Dogs

(From CP Dispatches)

VANCOUVER — Police tracking dogs Monday led officers across a park and a golf course on the trail of three bank robbers who escaped with $2,037 in a mid-town holdup, then lost the scent at a busy intersection 11 blocks from the scene of the robbery.

Police said the three men, who wore silk-stocking masks for the holdup of the Toronto Dominion Bank branch, apparently made their get-away by car, then went by foot into Little Mountain Park.

The dogs picked up the tracks at a point where the suspected get-away car was found abandoned, followed them through parkland shrubbery, then along several lanes and streets in South Vancouver and across Langara golf course.

Bank accountant Vic Granholm, 26, said he heard someone shout "this is a holdup" and looked up to see the three men with stocking-covered faces wielding automatics. He said they ordered the five staff members to one end of the building, then rifled the tills.

HOUSING RECORD SEEN VANCOUVER—Works Minister Green said Monday night the government hopes to achieve a record 140,000 housing starts in 1958 as a result of its policy of increasing low-cost housing loans.

Mr. Green said in an interview the government has asked lending institutions to make loans immediately to prospective homebuilders rather than to wait until further funds are voted in parliament. These agencies are doing as requested, he said.

SEVEN FLEE FLAMES NORTH SURREY—Fire late Monday destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Boyer in North Surrey.

Mrs. Boyer and her six children, ranging in age from five to 13, escaped without injury. Mr. Boyer was away at the time.

ASSAULT VICTIM DIES VANCOUVER—John Moncur, 79, admitted to hospital almost eight years ago after being assaulted with a crowbar, died Monday. Struck on the head by "persons unknown" in a mid-town room, Moncur was taken to hospital Oct. 20, 1950, and remained there until his death. An autopsy has been ordered.

LOT OF FIREWORKS VANCOUVER — A Japanese industrialist flew into Vancouver Monday and brought with him 8,421 pounds of fireworks. Rikio Ogaisu, 30-year-old managing director of a Japanese fireworks manufacturing company, said the fireworks were being donated for British Columbia's centennial celebration as an act of friendship from Japan.

The fireworks will be used

U.S. 'Moon' Fizzles in Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States Navy's latest Vanguard satellite rocket roared off to a grand start Monday night, but plashed into the Atlantic Ocean 1,500 miles later when it fizzled in flight.

NEW TROUBLE SPOT

A 20-inch sphere, equipped with delicate instruments to study X-rays shooting from the sun, is in the depths. But the navy says it did gain some important information from the abortive flight.

Conditions were just about perfect at the missile test centre when the sleek rocket surged from its launching pad.

There was a brief pause, then the slim Vanguard took off with a thunderous roar. It rose steadily, curved to a level path after 10 seconds and streaked over the Atlantic.

The navy reported 20 minutes after the launching that the third stage of the vehicle—powered by a solid fuel propellant—failed to ignite. Vanguard never came close to the 18,000 miles-an-hour velocity necessary to boost a satellite into orbit.

It was reported that the first two stages performed flawlessly this time.

The first Vanguard satellite—second of three moons fired into orbit—currently is circling the earth in an egg-shaped orbit. That satellite is expected to remain aloft for two centuries.

Racing along in orbit with the navy moon are the U.S. Army's two successful projects, the cylindrical Explorers I and III, launched Jan. 31 and March 26, respectively.

LONG DELAY IN DEATH CRASH SUIT

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A $250,000 damage suit involving Charles Horace (Pete) Stoneham, son of San Francisco Giants owner Horace Stoneham, Monday was set for trial next Jan. 15 in U.S. District Court in Phoenix.

The civil action was filed by William B. Leach, 63, a Victoria real estate and insurance broker, after his wife, Jennie, 53, was killed in a collision of the Leach car and a vehicle driven by young Stoneham on Feb. 4 in Phoenix.

Named as defendants were Stoneham, his father, and the San Francisco Giants.

Following the crash, young Stoneham was charged in Maricopa County Superior Court with felony manslaughter. He is scheduled for trial May 26.

A SPECIAL SALUTE TO B.C. on its hundredth birthday

by MACLEAN'S magazine, with an entire issue packed with British Columbiana—all about its people and politics, its history and legend, its humor and its new art.

HERE'S WHAT MACLEAN'S HAS LINED UP FOR THE CELEBRATION:

Pierre Berton

who comes back for an affectionate and sometimes critical look at his native province. Here are some of the things he found:

- ▶ that, to him, Victoria hasn't changed much since the thirties.
- ▶ that George I. Warren isn't having much luck making Victoria "a little bit of Olde England."
- ▶ that the whole of B.C. is just emerging from a frontier society.
- ▶ that it is "a province of extremes, a boom-or-bust province, the Texas of Canada."

Bruce Hutchison

who takes a romantic walk down

Government Street and describes

- ▶ the drama of Confederation that was played beside it.
 - ▶ the goldseekers, the genius and the eccentrics who haunt it.
 - ▶ the shopkeepers who have saved it and remembers how it used to be lined with wild-west saloons.
- Jack Long walked along behind him; to capture the charm of present day Government in brilliant four-color photographs.

Blair Fraser

who handles the touchy rise and fall of SOCIAL CREDIT and answers the question that everyone in B.C. is asking

"What's going to happen now?"

And in Backstage, Fraser takes a look at Deane Finlayson and the B.C. Conservatives.

Eric Nicol

who contributes a hilarious "Short History of B.C." and remarks that "Victoria swore that Vancouver would become a city over her dead body, and sure enough, that was how it worked out."

Lister Sinclair

who calls B.C. his home, but is forced to admit For the Sake of Argument, that "British Columbians are snobs."

Len Norris

AN ORIGINAL ALBUM OF PAINTINGS

specially commissioned by Maclean's in which nine of B.C.'s foremost artists express what their province means to them... some in soft traditional style and others in jazzy modern, by

$2,600 CASH SNATCHED FROM MAINLAND WOMAN

VANCOUVER (CP)—About $2,600 cash was snatched from a woman employee of a wholesale paper company on Smith Street in downtown Vancouver this morning. Shortly afterward a suspect was arrested.

Police said Miss Marion Postill, employed by the Barber-Ellis Co., was on her way from a bank with payroll money when the theft occurred.

Police cars converged on the scene, and some minutes later a man answering the description she gave was apprehended near the waterfront. The money was recovered, police said.

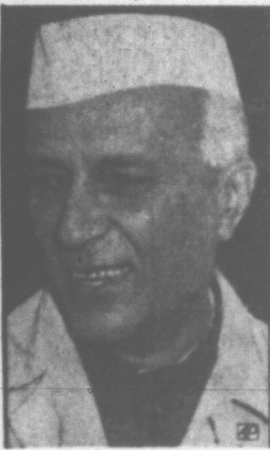

Freight Rate Hike Cancelled

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government today cancelled an increase in railway freight rates recently authorized by the Board of Transport Commissioners.

The cabinet action covered a 3.6-per-cent hike in railway freight rates, as well as a three-per-cent boost for Bell Telephone Company of Canada in local and long distance charges in Ontario and Quebec.

The cabinet, however, ruled against eight provinces who had asked that a four-per-cent freight rate increase, put into effect Jan. 1, 1957, also be cancelled.

The announcement also said the government has decided to direct the transport board in future to disregard payments into tax equalization reserve funds as expenses in determining rates.

Prime Minister Nehru ... ready to step down

India Leader Would Quit High Office

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Prime Minister Nehru today asked his Congress party to approve his retirement from the office he has held since the Indian Republic was created 11 years ago.

He told a meeting of the party he has proposed his retirement to President Vrajendra Prasad.

He asked the party members for their guidance on a "final decision."

Nehru, 68, has made a number of public allusions in recent months to his readiness to step down.

Nehru told the party meeting he felt he had to have a period during which he could free himself from "this daily burden and think of myself as an individual citizen of India and not as prime minister."

He said he is anxious to fit himself for tasks ahead.

"I feel that it might help me to do so if I am away from the centre of activity and responsibility," he said.

The party will hold a special meeting to consider Nehru's proposal, parliamentary party secretary Alghur Shastri announced.

Nehru told the gathering he is "greatly concerned over the international situation, which hovers on the brink of a precipice."

He added also that "the problems of India are bearing down on us."

Crippling Bus Strike Faces London Monday

LONDON (AP)—London firms today organized emergency transport for their staffs—everything from buses to bicycles—in the face of a scheduled strike which will bring the city's buses to a standstill next Monday.

Driver Killed

PORT HOPE, Ont. (CP)—A CPR freight train knifed into a big transport truck at a fog-shrouded level crossing three miles east of here early today. The truck driver was killed.

Provincial police identified the dead man as George Burke, Victoria, Ont.

AWAITING THE VERDICT

New Oil Pipeline East Urged at Borden Probe

CALGARY (CP)—A group of independent Canadian oil companies today proposed that a new $370,000,000 crude oil pipeline be built to carry 200,000 barrels a day from Edmonton to Montreal.

The group said a modern 30-inch diameter line to Montreal could carry Alberta crude to the East for $3.16 a barrel "which is less than the laid-down price of comparable Venezuelan crude."

The independents made their proposal in a brief to the royal commission on energy resources which started hearings here today. They said the move is necessary to offset export markets lost when the United States government placed restrictions on Canadian imports.

The brief said the Edmonton-Montreal pipeline could be built without tariffs, subsidies, government participation or penalties to refiners, oil producers or Canadian consumers in the East.

It claimed construction could be mainly of Canadian pipe and Canadian labor and material would be employed, giving "an immediate strong impetus to the recovery of the Canadian economy."

Teamster Strike Still Unresolved

Prospects of a quick return to work at Government House appeared uncertain today.

"I wouldn't count on a return to work," a Teamsters Union official in Vancouver said Monday night after the striking local, which picketed Government House, met to consider terms of a provisional settlement reached Sunday.

Reports from the union meeting Monday night said the teamsters were told they must reckon on being out for at least another six weeks "if they rejected the settlement proposal made in resumed negotiations with the Heavy Construction Association of B.C."

The province-wide strike and lockout erupted out of a wage dispute eight weeks ago. The teamsters struck for boosts of 53 cents an hour. The contractors offered 40 cents.

PECK ON ROYAL CHIN

Charles Turns Cheek With Stiff Upper Lip

LONDON (AP)—Prince Charles was pecked on the chin by a cheeky cockatoo Monday, but he kept a stiff upper lip and no damage was done.

The incident occurred at a television studio where the nine-year-old heir-apparent to the throne went to watch a children's program accompanied by his younger sister, Princess Anne.

The bird was handed to Charles. It walked right up the prince's arm and took a playful peck.

"Ooh, it's nibbling at me," exclaimed Charles.

He also met a hedgehog and a monkey, took a ride in

R. A. Brown Jr., president of Home Oil Co. Ltd., acted as spokesman for the group of 12 companies.

The Montreal market now is supplied by crude oil from Venezuela and the Middle East, shipped duty-free by tanker or pipeline from Portland, Me. A pipeline already operates out of Edmonton with the Interprovincial Pipeline Company taking light-gravity crude east to Sarnia and Toronto.

Mr. Brown outlined two possible routes for the proposed new pipeline. One would generally parallel the natural gas line of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Limited and would cost $423,164,000. The other would follow a Canadian route from Edmonton to Emerson, Man., on the U.S. border, skirt through

ALLIES AGREE TO SEPARATE MEETINGS

PARIS (Reuters)—The United States, Britain and France have agreed to separate meetings between their Moscow ambassadors and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in preliminary talks for a summit meeting, the French foreign ministry said today.

Russia has proposed either that the separate talks be continued, or that the ambassadors of Poland and Czechoslovakia join the talks if they are to be held jointly.

B.C. Electric Rate Hearing Called May 21

Public Utilities Commission hearings on B.C. Electric's proposed rate increase will start in Vancouver May 21, and in Victoria May 26.

Hearing in this city will be held in the courthouse.

Officials announced today that opening sessions of the hearings will be for presentation of arguments by the company in support of the increases. These are expected to last two or three days.

Members of the public and organizations opposing the increase will be able to cross-examine company witnesses.

Then the hearings will adjourn until June 12 when for at least two days, the commission will hear counter-argument, then rebuttals by both sides.

Second phase of the hearings to be held in Vancouver will open Monday, June 9. Location is not yet certain. Officials could not say when a decision would likely be handed down.

The B.C. Electric application for increases which would raise revenue by 12 per cent was announced last Wednesday. It was reported the requested rate boost would increase costs to homeowners by from 50 cents to $1.50 per month.

Various municipal officials have indicated they will support briefs to oppose the increases.

Similar action was called for by individual delegates to the quarterly executive meeting of the B.C. Progressive Conservative Association last weekend.

DE VALERA HINTS

Ireland Partition To End?

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times quotes Prime Minister de Valera of the Republic of Ireland as saying he foresees the possibility of the republic associating with the British Commonwealth—"under certain circumstances."

The American-born premier said that if the partition of the republic and Northern Ireland is ended "on terms satisfactory to the Irish minority in the six counties of Northern Ireland," the republic "might affiliate with the Commonwealth on terms similar to those covering the position of India."

Ireland could not consider pledging allegiance to the Crown, but might work with Britain as does India as a republic within the Commonwealth.

Pilot Saved After Crash

THE PAS, Man. (CP)—A civilian pilot whose single-engine plane was badly wrecked in a crash landing in northern Manitoba, was picked up by helicopter today after being missing since Sunday.

One of two RCAF Dakotas which had been searching for John Gifford Webb, 20, spotted him 30 miles north of Wabowden, Man.

Clear the Air Says John D.

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker today scorned a Russian suggestion that Western proposals for Arctic aerial inspection be referred to a summit meeting.

"There is no reason for that," Mr. Diefenbaker said when informed that Russia made the suggestion at the United Nations today as the Security Council prepared to take up the Western plan against surprise attack in the north.

"Such inspection should be a wonderful step forward. The U.S.S.R. thought things were taking place in the polar regions that were of such a potential danger as to have a debate on them in the Security Council last week."

The Security Council debated April 21 a Russian complaint, later withdrawn, alleging polar flights near its borders by United States bombers armed with nuclear weapons.

"The acceptance of inspection of the Arctic in areas of both the U.S.S.R. and Canada," Mr. Diefenbaker said, "would clear the air for both sides."

"We in Canada have nothing to fear from such inspection and we would welcome it as going a long way toward reducing tension in North America if the U.S.S.R. would do the same. If there were any foundation for Russian fears in that area, inspection would open the way to revelation of them."

Blistering Attack By Russ on Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—The Soviet Union today delivered a blistering attack on the United States plan for creation of an Arctic inspection system to guard against surprise attack.

Soviet delegate Arkady A. Sobolev declared Russia would not take part in negotiations proposed by the United States. Instead, he suggested that the whole question of safeguards against surprise attacks be left to a summit conference along with a long list of other problems.

Sobolev addressed the UN Security Council after U.S. ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge had appealed to the Soviet Union to agree at least to discuss a limited and experimental system of aerial and ground inspection in the Arctic.

The Soviet delegate charged that the discussion as proposed by the United States would leave the Soviet Union standing alone against a group of countries linked to the United States by military alliances.

'Sheer Publicity' Gromyko Charges

The United States had suggested that the participants include the Soviet Union, United States, Britain, France, Canada, Denmark and Norway as well as any other Arctic powers that wanted to take part.

Lodge was mild and conciliatory in his appeal for immediate action.

Big Welcome For Nasser By Moscow

MOSCOW (UP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic arrived here today for an 18-day state visit and received one of the greatest welcomes ever accorded a visiting dignitary.

Huge banners in the Moscow press hailed Soviet-UAR friendship and editorials said the visit was an omen of "fruitful co-operation" between Russia and the newly-founded Arab state.

Soviet leaders gave Nasser a mammoth reception when the sleek Russian TU-104 jetliner escorted by five Soviet fighters rolled to a stop before a waiting delegation that included President Voroshilov and Premier Khrushchev.

Voroshilov called the Arabs "fighters for freedom, independence and unified against the imperialists."

Nasser replied: "... I am convinced that our people and yours will do much to ensure the security of the existence of the people of our planet."

Monorail 'Ugly Coaster'

TORONTO (CP)—An elevated monorail to substitute for Toronto's proposed second subway would be "nothing but an ugly roller coaster," Transit Commission chairman Allan Lampson said today.

Wenner-Gren officials have estimated a 12-mile system could be built in Toronto for not more than $1,000,000 a mile. The east-west subway would cost about $200,000,000.

Arabs, Canal Firm Agree on Payments

ROME (UP)—The United Arab Republic today agreed to pay $79,240,000 compensation in seven yearly installments for its nationalization of the Suez Canal Co. in July, 1956. Final agreement was signed by Egypt and representatives of the old Suez Canal Co.

Nuclear Test Suspension Rejected by Macmillan

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Macmillan today rejected a suggestion that Britain's series of nuclear tests in the Pacific should be suspended until after summit talks.

The suggestion was made by Labor Leader Hugh Gaitskell in the House of Commons, after Macmillan had confirmed that Monday's blast over the Christmas Islands was in the megaton range—the hydrogen bomb range equivalent to more than 1,000,000 tons of TNT.

Gaitskell declared Monday's explosion—first by any power since Russia announced suspension of her own tests March 31—might bring a resumption of Soviet testing. He asked whether Britain is planning further tests.

Macmillan replied: "This is one of a series of tests not yet completed. I am not prepared at the present time to make any other statement than that."

"As to timing, the Soviet government made their announcement of their proposal to suspend tests immediately after the completion of one of the largest series of tests in history."

"The proper method by which this matter may be settled is by agreement with the three governments concerned."

Gaitskell asked whether the tests were "really necessary" before a summit conference.

The Prime Minister replied that the tests are of importance to Britain and that a section of the Labor party itself believes this country needs the bomb to use "as an instrument of negotiation."

Arctic inspection seems to be a hot question that gets some frigid answers.

LONDON—Horrified officials of a firm that supplies dress material to Queen Elizabeth has learned that its girl employees are wearing copies to go dancing.

The designers and manufacturers protested that such things simply aren't done — and promptly suspended several of the girls.

KIRKMAIDEN, Scotland—Despite his family's pleas, 68-year-old Johnnie Logie was back today in the lonely cave he has called home for 30 years.

Logie was released Monday from hospital, where he was taken eight weeks ago after he was found ill and starving in the isolated Luce Bay area where he has his cave.

His family pleaded with him to return to his native village of Scone. But Logie said he intended to keep his 30-year-old vow to spend the rest of his days in solitude.

Skipper, Famed For Rescues, Dies Suddenly

NEW YORK (CP)—Capt. Leslie F. Banyard, whose 50 years of seafaring included hair-raising rescues and wartime combat, died Monday on a Bermuda golf course.

The 64-year-old English-born skipper was in the news three years ago when he juggled his cruise ship Queen of Bermuda through towering seas to rescue 10 Newfoundland fishermen in the southern Atlantic. The fishermen described Capt. Banyard's manoeuvring as "heroic" and "terrific."

Capt. Banyard commanded 10 cruise ships for the Furness lines during a 45-year period. He was in the Canadian navy for five years as senior naval control and sea transport officer for Halifax.

He was made an officer of the Order of the British Empire in recognition of his ability to lay out convoys and move them through the sub-infested North Atlantic. He entered the Canadian navy as a lieutenant-commanded and left in 1945 as a captain.

MORROW CASTLE FIRE
In 1935 he skippered a lifeboat crew from a cruise ship and guided it dangerously close to a burning vessel to pick up 34 survivors. That was off Asbury Park, N.J., when the Morrow Castle caught fire and went down.

In 1955, during hurricane-force winds, a Newfoundland fishing schooner, loaded with salt, was being swamped by seas near the Bermuda coast when Capt. Banyard raced to the scene. The fishermen said they had virtually given up hope when they saw the Bermuda Queen swaying toward them in the storm.

After ticklish manoeuvring all 10 men were yanked to safety and the schooner disappeared.

WORKERS END WALKOUT ON MALTA

VALLETTA, Malta (Reuters) — Maltese workers returned to their jobs today after a violent 24-hour general strike against British policy towards the island colony.

The order to return to work was issued by the Malta General Workers Union, which called the strike that brought the island to a virtual standstill.

Governor Sir Robert Laycock has banned all meetings of more than 20 persons and all demonstrations in the island for a period of three months. He signed the proclamation after a day of violence in which a tug and an army vehicle were set on fire, police stations attacked and police and buses stoned.

International pipeline engineers were retained by the oil companies to examine the pipeline project and Mr. Brown said.

Stiffer Rules For Car Trailers

Vacationers who use trailers or tow their own boats to B.C. holiday spots face new and stiffer regulation after July 1.

Trailers weighing more than 1,500 pounds, or those weighing more than half the weight of the car-towing them, will be ruled from the road unless they are equipped with brakes.

Trailers must also have tail lights, reflectors and lights illuminating licence plates.

The new regulations were approved Monday by the B.C. cabinet following recommendations by the Motor Vehicle Branch.

Standards of air brakes on commercial vehicles have been tightened and sale of signal lights not approved by the government department now is barred.

The new regulations call for "adequate mufflers" and bars any tampering with the manufactured item.

Other changes call for passenger cars to have brakes which will stop a car driven at 20 miles per hour in 25 feet instead of 37 feet as previously ordered.

Larger trucks and trailer trucks must be able to stop at 20 miles per hour in 40 and 50 feet, respectively.

For the first time there is legal requirement that a driver following within 500 feet of another must dim his lights. This has been a courtesy regulation in the past.

POPPED BY HEAT

Sun Culprit In Mystery Of Balloons

By JOHN MIKA

The smiling sun, Victoria's pride and joy, today was named the culprit in the mysterious case of the deflating centennial balloons.

A trial of the indictment was scheduled immediately in the city works yard where thin plastic bags were to be used to prove the point.

Jury empanelled is the Greater Victoria centennial committee, perturbed by the frequent deflation of the balloons erected in the downtown area.

Ald. Geoffrey Edgell, committee chairman, Monday asked for special police surveillance of the balloons to cover the possibility that pranksters somehow were shooting them down.

However, city engineer J. C. Garnett came up with a scientific solution to the problem.

The balloons were painted before shipment to Victoria and the city engineer believes the heat of the sun has caused the oil-base paint to penetrate the canvass covering and damage the rubber bladders inside.

Solution is a thin plastic bag impervious to oil damage—to sheathe the rubber bladders. Experiments with these were to be conducted today to see if they will overcome the problem.

THOUSANDS INFESTED HOME

Moth Raids Spark Legal Row

By DINAH KERR

Masses of moths "flying and dying" around his home at 5094 Wesley in Saanich, finally sent George Scott Polson to Supreme Court today.

Mr. Polson, who now lives at 5089 Wesley, asked that the agreement for sale of the house at 5094 Wesley, bought in 1956, be rescinded because the insulation was infested with moths.

He said he had purchased the house from Arthur O. Hope Dec. 10, 1956, and moved in a few days later. The furnace at that time raised the heat to only 59 degrees, he said.

Two weeks after the furnace was fixed, droves of moths began filtering into the rooms through openings between baseboards and the concrete floor.

Mr. Polson said investigation of the insulation material, containing a large quantity of wool, revealed a breeding ground for "thousands" of moths and grubs.

"Moths were flying around the bedroom, hundreds of them, flying or dying. They also flew in regular formations around the kitchen, and settled on baseboards in other parts of the house."

Counsel for the plaintiff is Monty Drake, and for the defendant Ian Horne. The case is continuing before Mr. Justice H. Alan Maclean.

RESULT TODAY IN VOTE BY DAIRYMEN

Counting of ballots which will show whether Vancouver Island milk producers prefer to operate their own central depot for supply of milk to distributors, was underway at noon today.

The proposal is that Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association become the agency through which all Island-produced milk is channelled.

Step was suggested by B.C. Milk Board following controversy which resulted in a march on the B.C. legislature.

The outburst came when the milk board, removed the Island freight price differential.

Ballots were mailed to B.C. chief electoral officer Fred Hurley, who is expected to announce results later today.

Tree Planting

On Thursday afternoon, the present students of St. Margaret's School for Girls will plant trees along the Begbie Street end of the new hockey field. The ceremony will follow a talk by Miss Barbara Bullock Webster, on the history of the school. Two girls from each of the 12 grades will take part in the tree planting.

On Friday, as part of the 50th anniversary celebrations at the school this weekend, the board of directors, through the principal, Miss M. E. Godson, has given students a holiday.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Your Toes Tell Type Of Shoe Best For You

"You cannot put the same shoe on every foot." This bit of wisdom comes from Publilius, a Greek sage who lived in 42 B.C. However, after watching the shoes go by—and the feet in them—I am convinced that too many women keep trying to do so.

Although the needle-pointed toe is the most touted fashion in women's shoes this season, not every woman can wear these shoes nor are they the only new style. Many soft and supple leather shoes are available in interesting styles for every occasion and for every woman. These mold the foot with ease.

Despite their pliancy these soft leathers give support which is especially important when wearing mule backs or sandals which bare the feet.

Foot specialists advise women to take a good look at their toes before deciding what type shoe they can wear with comfort. The toes are the clues! For instance, if your toes taper up to the big toe your foot is made to order for the pointed-toe shoe. You probably will find this style most comfortable.

The pointed-toe shoe is also a good choice for the woman whose second toe extends past the others. The toes spread with each step and the long second toe will be in direct line with the point of the shoe.

Women who have squarish feet or those whose toes taper only slightly should avoid the extremely pointed shoes. They are not only unbecoming but will be uncomfortable. If you have this type foot, select one of the more modified styles. These are slim and tapered but there is no accentuated point to cause pressure and to "buckle" the toes.

Women who have fleshy feet also will be more comfortable in the modified line. If you have a tendency to swollen ankles, of course you should see your doctor about this condition. However, many women have a tendency this way when there is no organic or systemic disease. These women should choose the shoe with a lower V-cut throat rather than the high-cut vamp which may bind the feet.

Do you remember what a thrill it was each spring when, as a child, you first went barefooted and felt the grass between your toes? It is that time of year again and adults would also profit by this fun! Walking barefooted is a splendid foot exercise if you will grip the grass with your toes.

If you would like to have my exercises for the feet, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 14. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

For Hazel Johnson

A miniature telephone booth held gifts for Miss Hazel Johnson at a shower given by Miss Sally Williams at her home at Glen Lake. Assisting the hostess were Miss Catherine Creaser and Miss Margaret Williams. "Good Luck" was written across the top of the shower cake that centred the refreshment table flanked by vases of tulips. Guests included the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. A. Johnson; her grandmother, Mrs. S. Bufts, and the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. R. Birtwistle.

Also invited were Mrs. J. Callary, Mrs. M. Dyer, Mrs. O. Streitz, Mrs. T. Turcotte, Mrs. B. Hughes, Mrs. B. Gornuk, Mrs. R. Oliver, Mrs. R. Saunders, Mrs. C. Waters, Mrs. J. Callan, Mrs. N. LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

"Gift teas" and "money teas": Recently I have been hearing about "gift teas" for the bride-to-be. I can think of nothing colder or more inconsiderate than such an affair, which seems to be a ruse for a gift haul. Is this a trend or an established custom? I would like your comments.

Louise Davis answers:

Let's hope that the gift tea is only a trend that will quickly pass. Friendships are much more important than the greed of gift-hauls at social functions. The thousands of protests being made indicate that you are not in the minority. A gift tea is bad enough, but a money tea is even worse and those are unfortunately creeping into the social world. It is apparent that both hostess and bride-to-be are more interested in gifts and cash than they are in the delightful occasion of the getting together of friends. When materialism overshadows the value of friendship that cannot possibly be purchased, we are spiritually traveling on very thin ice. It is about time that the irate public campaign violently against this abhorrent abuse of manners and breeding. Such a campaign might help to push the pendulum back the other way into a more heart-warming existence. One way would be for a party hostess to put her foot down against imposing such obligations on her friends. She has the right to save her own soul. She can say "yes" for a tea, but "no" for gifts.

U.S. 'Moon' Fizzles in Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States Navy's latest Vanguard satellite rocket roared off to a grand start Monday night, but splashed into the Atlantic Ocean 1,500 miles later when it fizzled in flight.

A 20-inch sphere, equipped with delicate instruments to study X-rays shooting from the sun, is in the depths. But the navy says it did gain some important information from the abortive flight.

Conditions were just about perfect at the missile test centre when the sleek rocket surged from its launching pad. There was a brief pause, then the slim Vanguard took off with a thunderous roar. It rose steadily, curved to a level path after 10 seconds and streaked over the Atlantic.

The navy reported 20 minutes after the launching that the third stage of the vehicle—powered by a solid fuel propellant—failed to ignite. Vanguard never came close to the 18,000-miles-an-hour velocity necessary to boost a satellite into orbit.

NEW TROUBLE SPOT

Through four previous firings of the temperamental missile, the first and second stages, powered by liquid fuels, were the biggest navy headaches.

It was reported that the first two stages performed flawlessly this time.

The first Vanguard satellite—second of three moons fired into orbit—currently is circling the earth in an egg-shaped orbit. That satellite is expected

Racing along in orbit with the navy moon are the U.S. Army's two successful projects, the cylindrical Explorers I and III, launched Jan. 31 and March 26, respectively.

HERE'S WHAT MACLEAN'S HAS LINED UP FOR THE CELEBRATION:

Pierre Berton

who comes back for an affectionate and sometimes critical look at his native province. Here are some of the things he found:

- ▶ that, to him, Victoria hasn't changed much since the thirties.
- ▶ that George I. Warren isn't having much luck making Victoria "a little bit of Olde England."
- ▶ that the whole of B.C. is just emerging from a frontier society.
- ▶ that it is "a province of extremes, a boom-or-bust province, the Texas of Canada."

Bruce Hutchison

Government Street

- ▶ the drama of Confederation that was played beside it.
 - ▶ the goldseekers, the genius and the eccentrics who haunt it.
 - ▶ the shopkeepers who have saved it and remembers how it used to be lined with wild-west saloons.
- Jack Long walked along behind him, to capture the charm of present day Government in brilliant four-color photographs.

Blair Fraser

ALLIES AGREE
MEETINGS

PARIS (Reuters) — The United States, Britain and France have agreed to separate meetings between their Moscow ambassadors and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in preliminary talks for a summit meeting, the French foreign ministry said today.

Russia has proposed either that the separate talks be continued, or that the ambassadors of Poland and Czechoslovakia join the talks if they are to be held jointly.

The spokesman said the three Western powers did not object to having Poland and Czechoslovakia take part.

FINAL

Victorian Has Sentence Cut in Half

VANCOUVER (CP)—A three-year sentence given Donald Henry Ross, 37, of Victoria, in County Court here Jan. 23 was cut today by the Court of Appeal to 18 months.

Ross was convicted by Judge A. H. J. Swencinsky of forging an invoice for gasoline at Richmond a year ago.

Ex-NHL Goalie Turk Broda Testifies

TORONTO (CP)—Former hockey player Turk Broda was a witness today at the royal commission inquiry into activities of the Teamsters' Union during a truckers' dispute in the fall of 1956.

He testified he saw pickets smash the windshields of trucks at one of several gravel pits owned by Conn Smythe, his employer when he played goal for Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League.

Accused Train Robber Remanded

PORT HOOD, N.S. (BUP)—Russell Ross, 42-year-old former mail clerk charged with holding up and robbing a Halifax-to-Sydney express train earlier this month, was remanded for several weeks today until he can be given a mental examination.

Ross was accused of threatening two mail clerks on the train with a sawed-off shotgun and of escaping with registered mail and postage stamps worth nearly $10,000. Most of the loot was recovered.

Mother Charged With Murdering Baby

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP)—Eleanor Rowe, an 18-year-old unwed mother, was charged with murder today in the death of her month-old son David.

Police, called by neighbors, found the body in a two-room apartment she shared with her parents.

AERIAL INSPECTION

Arctic Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker today scorned a Russian suggestion that Western proposals for Arctic aerial inspection be referred to a summit meeting.

"There is no reason for that," Mr. Diefenbaker said when informed that Russia made the suggestion at the United Nations today as the Security Council prepared to take up the Western plan against surprise attack in the north.

"Such inspection should be a wonderful step forward. The U.S.S.R. thought things were taking place in the polar regions that were of such a potential danger as to have a debate on them in the Security Council last week."

The Security Council debated April 21 a Russian complaint, later withdrawn, alleging polar flights near its borders by United States bombers armed with nuclear weapons.

"The acceptance of inspection of the Arctic in areas of both the U.S.S.R. and Canada," Mr. Diefenbaker said, "would clear the air for both sides."

"We in Canada have nothing to fear from such inspection and we would welcome it as going a long way toward reducing tension in North America if the U.S.S.R. would do the same. If there were any foundation for Russian fears in that area, inspection would open the way to revelation of them."

Blistering Attack
By Russ on Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—The Soviet Union today delivered a blistering attack on the United States plan for creation of an Arctic inspection system to guard against surprise attack.

Soviet delegate Arkady A. Sobolev declared Russia would not take part in negotiations proposed by the United States. Instead, he suggested that the whole question of safeguards against surprise attacks be left to a summit conference along with a long list of other problems.

Sobolev addressed the UN Security Council after U.S. ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge had appealed to the Soviet Union to agree at least to discuss a limited and experimental system of aerial and ground inspection in the Arctic.

FREIGHT RATES BOOST
CANCELLED BY OTTAWAB.C. Electric Rate Hearing
Called May 21

Public Utilities Commission hearings on B.C. Electric's proposed rate increase will start in Vancouver May 21, and in Victoria May 26.

Hearings in this city will be held in the courthouse.

Officials announced today that opening sessions of the hearings will be for presentation of arguments by the company in support of the increases. These are expected to last two or three days.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

Members of the public and organizations opposing the increase will be able to cross-examine company witnesses.

Then the hearings will adjourn until June 12 when for at least two days, the commission will hear counter-argument, then rebuttals by both sides.

Second phase of the hearings to be held in Vancouver will open Monday, June 9. Location is not yet certain. Officials could not say when a decision would likely be handed down.

The B.C. Electric application for increases which would raise revenue by 12 per cent was announced last Wednesday. It was reported the requested rate boost would increase costs to homeowners by from 50 cents to $1.50 per month.

Various municipal officials have indicated they will support briefs to oppose the increases. Similar action was called for by individual delegates to the quarterly executive meeting of the B.C. Progressive Conservative Association last weekend.

India Leader
Would Quit
High Office

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Prime Minister Nehru today asked his Congress party to approve his retirement from the office he has held since the Indian Republic was created 11 years ago.

He told a meeting of the party he has proposed his retirement to President Vajradra Prasad.

He asked the party members for their guidance on a "final decision."

Nehru, 68, has made a number of public allusions in recent months to his readiness to step down.

Nehru told the party meeting he felt he had to have a period during which he could free himself from "this daily burden and think of myself as an individual citizen of India and not as prime minister."

He said he is anxious to fit himself for tasks ahead. "I feel that it might help me to do so if I am away from the centre of activity and responsibility," he said.

The party will hold a special meeting to consider Nehru's proposal, parliamentary secretary Alghur Shastri announced.

Nehru told the gathering he is "greatly concerned over the international situation, which hovers on the brink of a precipice."

New Oil Pipeline East
Urged at Borden Probe

CALGARY (CP)—A group of independent Canadian oil companies today proposed that a new $370,000,000 crude oil pipeline be built to carry 200,000 barrels a day from Edmonton to Montreal.

The group said a modern 30-inch diameter line to Montreal could carry Alberta crude to the East for $3.16 a barrel "which is less than the laid-down price of comparable Venezuelan crude."

The independents made their proposal in a brief to the royal commission on energy resources which started hearings here today. They said the move is necessary to offset export markets lost when the United States government placed restrictions on Canadian imports.

The brief said the Edmonton-Montreal pipeline could be built without tariffs, subsidies, government participation or penalties to refiners, oil producers or Canadian consumers in the East.

It claimed construction could be mainly of Canadian pipe and Canadian labor and material would be employed, giving "an immediate strong impetus to the recovery of the Canadian economy."

R. A. Brown Jr., president of Home Oil Co. Ltd., acted as spokesman for the group of 12 companies.

The Montreal market now is supplied by crude oil from Venezuela and the Middle East, shipped duty-free by tanker or pipeline from Portland, Me. A pipeline already operates out of Edmonton with the Interprovincial Pipeline Company taking light-gravity crude east to Sarnia and Toronto.

Mr. Brown outlined two possible routes for the proposed new pipeline. One would generally parallel the natural gas line of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Limited and would cost $423,160,000. The other would follow a Canadian route from Edmonton to Emerson, Man., on the U.S. border, skirt through

Bell Telephone
Hike Rejected

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government today cancelled an increase in railway freight rates recently authorized by the Board of Transport Commissioners.

The cabinet action covered a 3.6-per-cent hike in railway freight rates, as well as a three-per-cent boost for Bell Telephone Company of Canada in local and long distance charges in Ontario and Quebec.

The cabinet, however, ruled against eight provinces who had asked that a four-per-cent freight rate increase, put into effect Jan. 1, 1957, also be cancelled.

The announcement also said the government has decided to direct the transport board in future to disregard payments into tax equalization reserve funds as expenses in determining rates.

A statement from prime minister Diefenbaker's office said this was done "because of the uncertainty as to whether and when such reserves will need to be drawn down for the payment of taxes in future years and the inequity of imposing upon rate payers at this time the full cost of this distant and uncertain contingency."

The appealing provinces—all but Ontario and Quebec—had argued that the 4 per cent increase of Jan. 1, 1957, should also be disallowed because in the transport board decision then it had taken into account similar payments to the tax equalization reserves.

The prime minister's statement said, however, that the cabinet "decided that the level of freight rates that went into effect at that time, and is now in effect, was justified on other grounds, including the length of time it had been in effect before

'STRIKE OR NOT'

CPR Defies Union;
To Cut Out Firemen

MONTREAL (CP)—J. Graham, chairman of the grievance committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, CLC, said today the committee has decided a strike should be called in the event that a satisfactory settlement cannot be reached with the CPR on the diesel firemen issue.

MONTREAL (CP)—CPR president N. R. Crump announced today that the railway will go through with its plan to start removing diesel firemen from yard and freight locomotives as of May 11.

He made the statement after a 95-minute meeting with H. E. Gilbert, international president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (CLC).

"The Canadian Pacific will continue to operate the railway if the heads of the firemen's union order another strike," Mr. Crump told reporters after the meeting.

Mr. Gilbert, whose headquarters is in Cleveland, immediately left CPR offices for a nearby hotel to meet reporters. He will also report to Canadian vice-president W. E. Gamble of Montreal and members of the union's Canadian grievance committee, representing 39 local branches across Canada.

Mr. Crump said he was told by Mr. Gilbert that the union's action will be decided by this Canadian committee.

The union leader, Mr. Crump said, suggested that the May 11 deadline be set back, but gave no indications on what conditions.

"It was an obstinate attempt to delay the issue further."

Asked how the railway plans to continue operations if other railway unions honor firemen's picket lines in event of a strike, Mr. Crump said: "We expect them to honor their contracts with the railway."

Big Welcome
For Nasser
By Moscow

MOSCOW (UP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic arrived here today for an 18-day state visit and received one of the greatest welcomes ever accorded a visiting dignitary.

Huge banners in the Moscow press hailed Soviet-UAR friendship and editorials said the visit was an omen of "fruitful co-operation" between Russia and the newly-founded Arab state.

Soviet leaders gave Nasser a mammoth reception when the sleek Russian TU-104 jetliner escorted by five Soviet fighters rolled to a stop before a waiting delegation that included President Voroshilov and Premier Khrushchev.

Voroshilov called the Arabs "fighters for freedom, independence and unified against the imperialists."

Nasser replied: "... I am convinced that our people and yours will do much to ensure the security of the existence of the people of our planet."

$2,600 CASH SNATCHED

VANCOUVER (CP)—About $2,600 cash was snatched from a woman employee of a wholesale paper company on Smith Street in downtown Vancouver this morning. Shortly afterward a suspect was arrested.

Police said Miss Marion Postill, employed by the Barber-Ellis Co., was on her way from a bank with payroll money when the theft occurred.

Police cars converged on the scene, and some minutes later a man answering the description she gave was apprehended near the waterfront. The money was recovered, police said.

Skipper, Famed For Rescues, Dies Suddenly

NEW YORK (CP)—Capt. Leslie F. Banyard, whose 50 years of seafaring included hair-raising rescues and wartime combat, died Monday on a Bermuda golf course.

The 64-year-old English-born skipper was in the news three years ago when he juggled his cruise ship Queen of Bermuda through towering seas to rescue 10 Newfoundland fishermen in the southern Atlantic. The fishermen described Capt. Banyard's manoeuvring as "heroic" and "terrific."

Capt. Banyard commanded 10 cruise ships for the Furness lines during a 45-year period. He was in the Canadian navy for five years as senior naval control and sea transport officer for Halifax.

He was made an officer of the Order of the British Empire in recognition of his ability to lay out convoys and move them through the sub-infested North Atlantic. He entered the Canadian navy as a lieutenant-commanded and left in 1945 as a captain.

MORROW CASTLE FIRE

In 1935 he skippered a lifeboat crew from a cruise ship and guided it dangerously close to a burning vessel to pick up 34 survivors. That was off Asbury Park, N.J., when the Morrow Castle caught fire and went down.

In 1955, during hurricane-force winds, a Newfoundland fishing schooner, loaded with salt, was being swamped by seas near the Bermuda coast when Capt. Banyard raced to the scene. The fishermen said they had virtually given up hope when they saw the Bermuda Queen swaying toward them in the storm.

After ticklish manoeuvring all 10 men were yanked to safety and the schooner disappeared.

WORKERS END WALKOUT ON MALTA

VALLETTA, Malta (Reuters) — Maltese workers returned to their jobs today after a violent 24-hour general strike against British policy towards the island colony.

The order to return to work was issued by the Malta General Workers Union, which called the strike that brought the island to a virtual standstill.

Governor Sir Robert Laycock has banned all meetings of more than 20 persons and all demonstrations in the island for a period of three months. He signed the proclamation after a day of violence in which a tug and an army vehicle were set on fire, police stations attacked and police and buses stoned.

Nuclear Test Suspension Rejected by Macmillan

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan today rejected a suggestion that Britain's series of nuclear tests in the Pacific should be suspended until after summit talks.

The suggestion was made by Labor Leader Hugh Gaitskell in the House of Commons, after Macmillan had confirmed that Monday's blast over the Christmas Islands was in the megaton range — the hydrogen bomb range equivalent to more than 1,000,000 tons of TNT.

Gaitskell declared Monday's explosion — first by any power since Russia announced suspension of her own tests March 31 — might bring a resumption of Soviet testing. He asked whether Britain is planning further tests.

Macmillan replied: "This is one of a series of tests not yet completed. I am not prepared at the present time to make any other statement than that.

"As to timing, the Soviet government made their announcement of their proposal to suspend tests immediately after the completion of one of the largest series of tests in history.

"The proper method by which this matter may be settled is by agreement with the three governments concerned."

Gaitskell asked whether the tests were "really necessary" before a summit conference.

The Prime Minister replied that the tests are of importance to Britain and that a section of the Labor party itself believes this country needs the bomb to use "as an instrument of negotiation."

When you have the time...will you have the money?

How often have you thought about the things you would like to do... if you had the time and the money? Perhaps you would like to travel, catch up on your fishing or gardening, or do any number of things you've never had time to do, such as taking part in civic or other activities.

Today, your chances of living to enjoy a lengthy and vigorous retirement are better than ever before. What is more, they are improving every day, thanks to modern medical science. So it is highly probable that you will have the time.

But the big question is: will you have the money? The time to start planning for adequate retirement income to meet your needs, hopes and ambitions during sunset years is now.

The first step in such a plan is to figure out, from your present life insurance, pension plans and investments, how much income you will have.

Metropolitan Representatives are trained and equipped to help you compute that figure. They will show you step-by-step how you can supplement it to provide more adequate financial security during your retirement years.

For example, a Metropolitan Field-man will be pleased to explain how you can add an extra $100, $200 or more each month to your income after you retire with a custom-made Metropolitan Retirement Plan.

Of course, such a plan has life insurance provisions to give added protection for your family now... and it is always comforting to know that the cash and loan values in a Metropolitan retirement plan can be used for unforeseen contingencies.

The sooner you start on a sound retirement program the better... and the lower the premium. Call your Metropolitan Representative today, and give him a chance to show that...

ROME (UP)

—The United Arab Republic today agreed to pay $79,240,000 compensation in seven yearly installments for its nationalization of the Suez Canal Co. in July, 1956. Final agreement was signed by Egypt and representatives of the old Suez Canal Co.

RATES

the petition was made" two weeks ago.

The cabinet had suspended the increases until May 1 pending the appeals.

The railways initially had asked the transport board for a 10 per cent increase.

The principle involved in the two cases was somewhat the same. The transport board allowed payments into a tax deferral reserve fund to be charged up against current expenses that have to be covered by freight and phone charges.

Had phone rate increases gone into effect, it would have meant about $12,500,000 to Bell Telephone in Ontario and Quebec.

The appeals were based on the argument that current users of rail and phone services should not be required to pay for possible future tax charges.

Amounts involved in these tax reserve funds annually are $13,450,000 in the case of Bell Telephone and $12,250,000 for the Canadian Pacific Railway.

INSPECTION

mit meeting and leaving all discussion of military inspection to such a meeting.

Lodge took no note of the Soviet proposal in pressing for private negotiations on the U.S. plan. He said today's council meeting could "mark the turn in the road for which humanity has been looking."

He said the United States is willing to separate the Arctic inspection question from the broader problem of disarmament and start with limited measures.

"If we can proceed gradually," he said, "and first experiment with limited measures of aerial and ground inspection, it should facilitate the subsequent expansion of inspection."

Lodge again denied Soviet charges that flights of U.S. Strategic Air Command planes in the Arctic are a threat to the Soviet Union. He said they are carried out solely for defensive purposes.
